WEATHER.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Toledo, O., May 17, 1892.

The storm has advanced to the eastward, and is central over Kansas. It has caused rains over the west and northwest, and will probably cause light showers over the lakes.

The area of high pressure still covers the eastern half of the country and will cause fair weather over the eastern states during the next 36 hours. There is a second area of high pressure advancing from the extreme northwest which will cause the weather to clear over the west and northwest, and dominate the weather over this section the last of the week.

The temperature has risen slightly or remained stationary in all the districts.

Prospects for fine weather are good in all sections.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity—Fair, warmer, followed by increasing cloudiness and light rain late to-night or early to-morrow morning.

Rosy cheeks are not made from the outside. Pure blood, an active liver, good appetite and digestion—these are the things that give them. And these are the things that you get with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

First and foremost and above all things, it purifies the blood. Not only in March, April, and May, when the sarsaparillas claim to do good, but all the year round, it cleanses, renews and invigorates the system, rouses every organ into healthful action, and drives out blood-poisons of every name and nature. For the worst forms of Scrofula, the most stubborn Skin and Scalp Diseases, such as Salt-rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all diseases or disorders caused by a torpid liver or impure blood, nothing can equal it as a remedy.

If any thing could, it would be guaranteed, just as the "Discovery" is. If that fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. Is any thing that isn't sold in this way likely to be "just as good?"

See that you get the genuine medicine.

THE CASPIAN SEA

Opens Its Storm Beaten Bosom

And Swallows Another Boat Load.

Two Hundred and Fifty Perish

By the Sinking of a Steamer.

Most of the Steamers on This Inland Sea are Poorly Built and Unable to Battle with the Heavy Waves.

Odessa, May 17.—Another frightful accident is said to have occurred on the Caspian sea. A report has been received at Astrakhan that the steamer Alexander Wolkow carrying passengers between Caspian ports has foundered with 250 passengers on board.

This following a recent accident, attended by almost equal loss of life, a few weeks ago, has caused much excitement in Caspian ports and there is a general opinion that the Russian authorities do not attend with due vigilance to the inspection of steamships in those waters.

Most of the steamers on the Caspian are poorly built and not calculated for enduring the sudden and severe storms which occasionally sweep over that inland sea. It is believed that this latest disaster, should the report of awful fatality be confirmed, will lead to a general overhauling of the steam and sailing craft on the Caspian.

Charleston, Ill., May 17.—Congressman L. T. Busey was to-day renominated by the democratic convention of the Fifteenth congressional district to oppose Joseph G. Cannon was defeated by Busey in 1890 vember in this district is therefore certain. Cannon was defeated by Bussey in 1890 by 600 votes, and the Buseyites now claim that they are a thousand stronger than they were at that time.

UNITARIAN CONFERENCE.

Annual Meeting Being Held in Chicago.

Much Important Work to Come Before the Delegates at This Gathering.

Chicago, May 17.—The annual meeting of the Western Unitarian conference, the Women's Western Unitarian conference, and the Western Unitarian Sunday Schools society opened to-day in All Souls Unitarian church, and will continue until Thursday. The Western Unitarian conference is the largest organization of that denomination in the country save the American Unitarian association, with headquarters at Boston.

These two bodes have grown somewhat apart in doctrine and object. The association announces as its object "to diffuse knowledge and promote the interests of pure christianity."

The conference repudiates the word "christianity," and invites to membership "all who wish to join us to help establish truth and righteousness and love in the world."

Some of the conference men, however, thought this was too broad, and accordingl seceded, and in 1886 formed the Western Unitarian association on the lines of the eastern organizationi. The new movement never prospered and the Western Unitarian conference to-day includes nearly every Unitarian church in the west, its influence extending north to Minnesota, south to the Ohio river, east to Buffalo, and west to the Rocky mountains.

Theologically it represents the most radical thought of any organization claiming to come within the pale of the christian church, and its ministers are known for their ability and broad intelligence.

A number of important matters are on the program for consideration and the meeting promises to be the most pregnant in interest in the history of the Western conference. Rev. Dr. D. L. Shorey, of this city, is presiding over the conference proper, and Rev. Ida C. Hultin, of Moline, over the conference of women.

THE NEUTRALITY LAWS

Are Being Tested in a Texas Court

Two Hundred and Twelve Mexicans

On Trial for Assisting Catarino Garza in His Recent Revolutionary Movements.

San Antonio, Tex., May 17.—The United States court room was crowded yesterday with 212 Mexicans arrested upon indictments charging them with violating the United States neutrality laws in assisting Catarino Garza in conducting his revolutionary movement against Mexico upon this side of the border.

The majority of the prisoners were penniless, and Judge Maxey appointed attorneys in their cases.

Two of the revolutionists were arraigned and entered pleas of guilty, but sentence was reserved.

Pablo Munoz and Zexto Longerio, two of Garza's lieutenants, were among the number.

Capts. John G. Bourke, Joseph Mackey and Francis H. Sardie, all of the Third cavalry, were present to testify in the cases.

United States District Attorney Evans announced to Judge Maxey in open court that Catarino Garza would positively be in custody before the close of this term of court. The trials of the revolutionists will begin to-day.

CAPTURED BY INSURGENTS

The City of Bolivar in the Hands of Rebels.

Gen. Rodil Killed in the Battle.

Latest News from the Warring Factions in the South American Countries.

New York, May 17.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Maracaibo, Venezuela, says confirmation of the capture of the city of Bolivar by the insurgents, and news of the death of the commander of the government forces has been received there.

Besides the killing of Gen. Rodil, Gen. Espinozo was made prisoner at Bolivar. He was in command of the town while Rodil was away.

The rebel chieftain Gonzales Gil rode into Bolivar at the head of a column of cavalry, and after a brief defense, Espinozo surrendered.

Gil, fearing the return of Rodil with a strong force, retired with a large quantity of captured arms. On the second day after Gil's raid Gen. Rodil re-entered the city with a large force. He was exasperated at the state of things in Bolivar, and condemned half a dozen military officers, whom he thought responsible, to death.

A few days later his troops revolted, took him prisoner, and demanded immediate countermanding of the order to shoot certain of their comrades at sunset. Rodil refused to give the order and was shot. Gil returned and took possession of the town, the revolters joining his forces.

WAS NOT A BIG SUCCESS

Donnelly's Cryptogram Was a Money Loser.

Judge Blodgett Has Rendered a Judgment in Favor of the Publishers of the Book

Chicago, May 17.—Ignatius Donnelly, alliance candidate for president and author of "The Great Cryptogram; or, Francis Bacon's cipher in the so-called Shakespearean plays," was defeated in Judge Blodgett's court yesterday in a suit with his publishers.

R. S. Peale & Co. had the contract for printing and circulating Mr. Donnelly's book. On the strength of an anticipated large sale Mr. Donnelly, it is said, secured a loan of $4,000. The book was not the success that was expected and the result was that Peale & Co. claimed to be out $4,000.

They began suit for the amount with interest and yesterday Judge Blodgett entered judgment against Donnelly for $5,293.72.

ALL UNDER WATER

The Crest of the Great Flood Wave

Is Rapidly Reaching the South.

The St. Louis Railroads All Stalled.

With Miles of Track Submerged.

Appeals for Help Coming in from People Whose Homes and Stock Have Been Swept Away.

St. Louis, May 17.—The Mississippi river at this city is higher to-day than at any time since the disastrous flood of 1858.

The river continued to rise during the night and at 5 o'clock the gauge registered 35 feet, 5 inches.

At Alton, the water is above all previous records, except the high water of 1844.

An idea of the effect of the flood on the railroads entering the city from the Illinois side may be gained from the following description of the situation at East St. Louis:

Above the viaduct the Ohio & Mississippi, and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy tracks are from one to four feet under water.

The Chicago & Alton road for a distance of four miles from the bridge is out of sight.

Below the viaduct the Louisville & Nashville road was compelled to refuse freight last night.

The Big Four will probably suspend today and the Cairo Short Line will follow suit before evening.

Not a wheel has moved in the Mobile & Ohio yards for several days.

The Belt Line yards are three feet under water and the great bridge yards closed down last night.

The Chicago & Alton, Big Four, Clover Leaf and Jacksonville route broke at the bridge junction near East St. Louis. There are but two engines with fire boxes above water, and they are pulling all passenger trains from the relay depot, upon the Wabash track to Venice, and the Chicago & Alton road to a point beyond Nameoka.

The Merchants Terminal roads at East St. Louis have suspended traffic between the bridge and the National Stock yards.

The flood in St. Charles county, twenty miles above the city, increases in vastness and in its disastrous results. All day yesterday and until a late hour last night appeals for help were being received from numerous families whose homes are being swept away by the flood.

The Post Dispatch of this city has secured a large steamer and manned with a double crew for day and night duty, started Sunday morning to render aid to the hundreds of persons who are in imminent peril near the mouth of the Missouri river.

Last night the Post-Dispatch steamer rescued twelve families from Stump Slough, and six families from Kitsac island. The water had driven these people to the roofs of their houses and they had almost given up hope of rescue when the steamer hove in sight.

The current in the river was running at a tremendous rate of speed and the work of saving these families was accomplished with great difficulty.

The steamer Fawn, from St. Charles, was carried by the fearful current out of the regular channel and was stranded in a wheat field an eigth of a mile from the river proper. The Post-Dispatch boat last night by means of long hawsers succeeded in getting the Fawn back into the channel.

FLOATING ON THE RIVER.

Nude Body of a Woman Found in Niagara.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 17.—The body of a woman was found yesterday floating in an eddy on the Canadian side below the carriage suspension bridge. The body was taken out and found to be that of a woman about 30 years of age, five feet one or two inches, weighing about 130 pounds, long jet black hair, dark complexion, round face.

On the third finger of the left hand was a plain gold ring with the inscription, "Tout D'Vous Toujours." The body was nude with the exception of the black stockings and fine buttoned shoes. From appearances it had been in the water only a short time.

The only sign of foul play is that on the knuckles of the right hand are some bruises. Otherwise the body is singularly free from the cuts and abrasions that generally appear on bodies that pass over the falls. There is no clue to the identity of the woman.

Gordon, president of the United Confederate Veterans, has appointed a committee of 19, one from each of the southern states, to present a memorial and petition before the legislature of each of those states asking them to vote a life pension to the widow of Jefferson Davis.

COUNT HERBERT TO MARRY

The Daughter of Count George Hoyos.

The Kaiser Replies to the Invitation But Neglects to Congratulate Him.

Vienna, May 17.—The marriage of Count Herbert Bismarck to the Countess Hoyos, daughter of the Count George Hoyos, is likely to be one of the most brilliant events of the Vienna season.

The mother of Miss Hoyos was the daughter of Whitehead, the well-known torpedo maker, and there is a great deal of wealth in the family.

The note of the German kaiser, thanking Count Herbert for an invitation to the wedding, omitted, it is said, to convey the imperial congratulations, and this fact is a subject of some comment.

Whether, however, the German kaiser is represented or not, the occasion of the wedding, on the 22d of June, will be attended by a great gathering of the leading nobility of Austria and Hungary, among whom the family of Hoyos stands very high.

ASSISTANT BISHOP.

Springfield, Ill., May 17.—The meeting of the synod of the Episcopal diocese of Springfield is being held here to-day with closed doors for the purpose of selecting an assistant bishop, and the indications at present seem to point toward Frederick P. Davenport, of Memphis, Tenn., as the strongest candidate for the honor.

LOOK OUT FOR THIEVES.

Large Number of House Robberies Going on About the City.

On last Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock, while Mrs. A. Robb, of Walbridge avenue, Ninth ward, went across the street to visit her sister, Mrs. John Phalen, two sneak thieves entered her house and stole two suits of clothing belonging to Mr. Robb. Not being satisfied with this, they took two overcoats, a gold watch and chain, a valuable ring, and ransacked the whole house. The thieves left their old clothing in exchange for the finer ones, which were found lying on the floor in the house, after which they departed for parts unknown. As it is well known that the city is full of petty thieves, it would be well for the police to be on the lookout.

Washington, May 17.—Delegates to a national Baptist educational convention called to meet in this city yesterday proceeded to organize. The work of drafting and adopting a constitution occupied most of the session yesterday.

The convention will probably close its session to-day.

FOUND IN A WELL.

A Dead Body Tells the Tale of Crime.

Timothy Guild Was Murdered, but Who are the Persons Guilty of the Deed.

Arcade, N. Y., May 17.—The body of Timothy Guild, about 30 years of age, who until recently kept a hotel here, was found in the well of Peter Boldt, a German farmer, yesterday. Guild had been on a spree for two weeks. Boldt is a widower and lives alone. He was arrested on suspicion. He denied all knowledge of how Guild met his death, but it is thought he might have killed him in a drunken debauch.

Later facts have come to light, however, which tend to exonerate him. Every indication shows that the body was placed in the well before 4 o'clock in the morning and Guild was seen at his father-in-law's house about midnight. There are six gashes in the forehead, the side of the head is battered in and there is a bullet hole in the neck. No clue to the murderer has developed. An investigation is being made.

WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING

An English Minister Charged With Crime.

Two Girls Assaulted by a Preacher in the Compartment Cars of England.

London, May 17.—At Hungerford, in Wiltshire, to-day, Kennedy Bell, a clergyman of the established church, was brought up a prisoner, charged with criminal assault on two young women in the compartments of railway carriages.

Bell has heretofore been a clergyman in good standing. He is married and has three children, and the charges against him have excited the greatest astonishment among those who have attended his ministrations. One of his victims is named Brittain and the other is named Abery. The case is without parallel in that Bell appears to have committed the two assaults in two different compartments during one journey in one train.

THE GEGHAN CASE.

The Attorneys Will Plead Insanity as a Defense.

Bowling Green, O., May 17.—(Special)—The case of Thomas Geghan, charged with murder in the first degree, was taken up in common pleas court to-day.

It will be remembered that on December 14 last, Thomas Geghan, during a fit of drunken insanity, shot and killed his wife, near Latcha. He hid in a corn field that night, but eventually gave himself up. Insanity will be the defense.

TOO MUCH OF A JOB.

Washington, May 17.—Mr. Justice Harlan and Senator Morgan have formally notified the president of their willingness to serve as arbitrators on behalf of the United States in the Bering sea matter.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Report of the Committee on State of Church.

"Jim-Crow" Cars in the South Condemned.

The Election of Officers Brings About a Spirited Discussion on the Book Concern.

Omaha, Neb., May 17.—Bishop Bowman presided to-day. Each bishop has presided one day now and the list will be gone through again.

The report of the committee on itinerancy was called up and postponed till 10 a. m. to-morrow as a special order. There is minority and majority, the minority removing the time limit.

Dr. Lanahan offered a verbose resolution outlining a mode to be followed in the election of officers. The committee on temporal economy report that any change in manner of electing editors and agents is inadvisable and recommend that no change be made. Adopted.

The committee on the state of the church indorse the formation of a national Sabbath union. Its second report condemns the southern outrages, demands that congress take suitable action to suppress this growing unjust and inhuman acts, and calling upon the secular and religious papers to unite in putting down the evil.

Dr. Ackerman, of Alabama, moved to adopt the report by a rising vote, but Dr. Mytley wanted to talk some, so did Dr. Quealy, and they both favored the report. Dr. Payne, of New York, also favored the report, denouncing the "Jim Crow" car, detailing the ill-treatment of colored and white ministers.

The great church should profect its own membership. During the last year 150 negroes were lynched, seven burned alive, one flayed alive and one disjointed. He thought that the M. E. church should emphatically place itself on record.

The previous question being ordered, the report was adopted by a rising vote without dissent.

The hour of 10 having arrived, the order of the day, the election of officers, was taken up. The bishops announced the tellers, one from each conference, and one-at-large.

Nominations were then called for. Sanford and Homer Eaton were nominated for agents of the New York book concern, and they were numerously seconded.

N. J. Field, of Philadelphia, rose and wanted information on the report of the book concern before voting. He was not allowed to ask any questions, neither would the bishops allow anyone to make the desired explanation. Field claims that the book concern does not pay six per cent under the present management. He thinks it stange that there is a debt of nealy one-third of the capital.

Dr. Swindle's resolution in regard to chaplains declares that the army and navy of the United States should be instructed in religion and good morals and asks congress to provide a competent and sufficient number of chaplains for this purpose. The secretary was especially requested to consider the subject. The resolution also recommends that a board of three bishops be appointed to pass upon the qualifications of all Methodist preachers applying for a position of chaplainship in the army and navy. The resolution also recommended that the president of the United States and the secretary of war be requested to refuse all applications from Methodists who could not furnish the recommendation of this board of bishops for the position of chaplain. Another clause was introduced protesting against the proposed change in the army rules by which the chaplains would be employed the same as teamsters, cooks, etc.

Another clause provided for the appointment of a committee of 25 from the Methodist church to consider the steps most expedient to secure the more efficient chaplaincy in the army and navy. Dr. Swindells declared that there were 72 posts in the United States army now without chaplains. He thought this was a shameful neglect. The Methodist church, he said, had but eight chaplains. Dr. Swindells offered a resolution to regulate the precedence of committee reports. This touched a responsive chord in many parts of the house as the grist of reports from committees is going to be enormous and will soon begin to come in. The resolution provided that when any set discussion arose over any report then some other report should be called up. The resolution was tabled.

The bishop sent in a communication requesting the conference to decide definitely the meaning of the rules where they specified that a call for a vote by orders be called by a third of either order—whether these should be considered one-third of all members elected or one-third of those present and voting. The paper was referred to the judiciary committee. Adjourned.

It was noticeable during the day's proceedings that the reference of Dr. Kynetts' resolution to the committee on judiciary was taken as a first victory for the women and was greatly applauded from the gallery, which was well filled with ladies. The woman question is apparently sure to come before the conference now, and may come in both the reports of the committee on lay delegation and judiciary.

MOST AWFUL TORTURE.

One of the Anaconda Miners Rescued.

He Had Been Confined in a Space Four Feet by Two Since Last Saturday.

Butte, Mont., May 17.—Frank Agazza, one of the entombed miners of the Anaconda was rescued last night.

He has been confined in a space four feet by two feet since Saturday at 3 o'clock, but escaped without injury.

There are still five men under the great mass of rock, but no hope is entertained that any of them are alive.

GENERAL GEORGE KLAPKA

A Hungarian Hero Who is Dead.

One of Kossuth's Most Trusted Ministers.

He Fought and Lost and Went Into Exile—Like Most of His Countrymen He Hated Russia.

Vienna, May 17.—General George Klapka is dead ait Budapesth.

He was one of the heroes of the Hungarian revolution. George Klapka was born at Tomeswar in Hungary, April 7, 1820. He entered the army at the age of 18, and was at first attached to the artillery. Being sent in 1847 to a frontier regiment, he became disgusted and resigned.

When the Hungarian revolution of 1848 broke out Klapka took up arms against Austria. He had command of a company of Honveds. Toward the close of 1848 he was chief of staff of General Kis, and after the battle of Kaschau he succeeded Messares at the head of his army corps.

Under Kossuth, Klapka was minister of war, but he yearned to serve his country in the field and quitting the ministry he took command of the important position of Komorn.

He vainly endeavored to reconcile Kossuth and Georgei, and fought with great bravery in those severe battles against the Austria-Russian army which virtually decided the fate of the revolution. After the unfortunate capitulation of Vilagos, when Gorgei and his army surrendered to the Russians, Klapka continued to defend himself with great heroism in Komorn.

He held out while the civil leaders of the revolution were seeking refuge in foreign lands, and he exacted honorable terms from the enemy when at length compelled to surrender.

Klapka went into exile, first in London and then in Switzerland and Italy. His memoirs of the revolution attracted widespread attention and he also published in 1851 a work on "The national war in Hungary and Transylvania."

In 1862 Gen. Klapka was instrumental in preventing his countrymen from rising against Austria because he considered the movement ill-timed. After the defeat of the Austrians by the Prussians in 1866 Gen. Klapka thought the occasion favorable for revolution and he incited the Hungarians to throw off the Austrian yoke.

The attempt failed and Klapka became again a fugitive in foreign lands. Like most of his countrymen he bitterly hated Russia and his military advice and ability were freely used for the benefit of Turkey in the war of 1873.

Under the amnesty which followed the granting of autonomy to the Hungarians, Klapka was allowed to return to his native land where of late years he has led a quiet life, revered as a hero by his countrymen.

SHORT WORK OF THEM.

Three Negroes Lynched in Alabama.

They Had Entered Into a Scheme to Rob a Planter of His Cotton Money.

Birmingham, Ala., May 17.—At Childersburg early yesterday morning three negroes named Berry Rowden, Jim Rowden, and Will Cantor, were hanged and shot on the bridge of the Georgia Central railroad over the Coosa river.

The bodies were cut down and fell into the river, two of them only being recovered.

The lynching was a sequel to a tragedy enacted on Saturday night at the home of D. C. Bryant, four miles out of town.

Some unknown person entered his residence while he was absent, and made his way to Mrs. Bryant's bedroom. She was sleeping with two little children and the man attacked her with a light wood knot, striking her two blows about the head. She undertook to scream, and was fearfully choked. Finally the man became frightened and left.

It was supposed that his motive was to get some money which Bryant had received from the sale of cotton, and had put in his trunk. When Bryant left home Saturday night his wife asked her cook to remain with her, but she refused. This led to the cook being suspected, and a report comes that she finally confessed that it was a plot between herself and her two brothers, the Rowden negroes, and Will Cantor, to get Bryant's money, and she and Cantor were to go away and marry on their share.

The three negroes were arrested while hiding in a swamp and put in the Childersburg jail. A mob of 50 men went there in the night, but the marshal was informed of their purpose and drove them away with threats.

They retired across a hill, and the marshal went home to bed. Yesterday morning he found his prisoners gone. The discovery of the two bodies in the river followed soon after.

FOUND HIS DEAD BODY.

An Awful Sight Meets a Wife's Gaze.

She Finds Her Husband's Body Hanging to a Tree Near Her Home.

Celina, O., May 17.—Near Port Jefferson, Shelby county, was discovered what will terminate in one of the most inhuman and brutal murders ever occurring in this vicinity.

P. C. Hennessy, a farmer, had been at the village Friday night after his mail and some groceries, and it is supposed that he started to walk home, and was waylaid on the way and murdered. Saturday morning his wife, after a night's worry, started to go to a neighbor's house to raise the alarm when she was confronted with the lifeless body of her husband hanging to a limb of a tree in sight of the house.

She managed to raise the alarm and the body was cut down and taken to the house.

The coroner held an inquest which disclosed eight large, deep wounds on the neck and breast, either of which would have been fatal. It is supposed that he was murdered for money, as he was known to have quite a sum when he left for home.

While there is no clue to the murderers, suspicion is pretty well settled, and it is thought will disclose some startling features.

THIS IS PLAIN.

It Simply Explains the Position of Drs. Copeland and Bell.

Whom the Shoe Fits Let Him Put It On—Now Let the Public Judge By Results of the Merit of Our Work.

Drs. Copeland and Bell say what they have to say to the public in a direct and straightforward manner. They do not ask the protection of the newspapers, or seek to secure silence by threats of libel. They are themselves responsible for their printed statements, and what they say in print they are prepared to prove. Let there be no mistake about this. Their names, their work and their record are before the public, and when assailed they have a right to protect themselves by all adequate and legitimate means. They have this to say to the newspapers in which they advertise, and the public generally: When attacks or criticisms are to be made, print them. All they ask is an opportunity to answer what is said just as frankly and just as truthfully as they are able. They don't seek to suppress attacks or criticisms of any kind. The only thing they demand is that such attacks shall be signed by responsible parties, and shall contain names, facts and places; no indefinite allusions or vague insinuations. This is fair; it is also business. "Whom the shoe fits, let him put it on."

AFTER MANY YEARS

Of Pain and Suffering.

A Toledo Lady Tells What Has Been Accomplished for Her by Drs. Copeland and Bell, After Other Physicians.

"When I came to the offices of Drs. Copeland and Bell I had been a sufferer for over 12 years." This was the remark of Mrs. Kate Green, who resides at 2926 Chase street. Continuing she said: "I coughed incessantly. My throat was always raw and sore with a tickling sensation in my throat that kept me awake nights. My head felt dull and ached nearly all the time. I had severe pains through my chest and sides, especially if I caught a slight cold. The disease had encroached upon my stomach and nearly destroyed my digestive organs. I had no appetite and what little I did eat caused me great distress. I lost flesh and strength gradually and finally the doctors gave me up to die. After placing myself under the care of Drs. Copeland and Bell I realized at this time that they thoroughly understood my symptoms and the remedies to be applied to them. Since taking their treatment my cough has disappeared. No sore throat or tickling sensation. No pain in chest or sides. I eat well, sleep well, and feel that I am on the high road to complete health and have every confidence and faith in the science and skill of these gentlemen."

EXTENDING THE SERIES.

Pertinent Testimony by Mr. John Young. He Searched for Twelve Years.

Mr. John Young of 551 Erie street, in a conversation with a reporter gives his experience with a common disease, and the ordinary methods of attempting to obtain relief. These statements from people living in our midst all pointing to the same facts mean something. The principal facts emphasized in the whole series is the inefficiency of the ordinary treatment for Catarrh and the certainty with which cures are effected by the mild, systematic, painless, methods of the modern specialist.

Mr. Young related his experience as follows:

"About 12 years ago I contracted a severe cold. Before I recovered from it I had another. They then kept coming, one after the other, until I was never free from them. I realized that chronic catarrh had a hold on me. My head and throat were all closed up. I kept blowing and spitting. The mucous was constantly dripping into my throat, and kept it feeling thick and raspy. Every time the weather changed I had a sore throat. The glands of the throat were sore. There always seemed to be something in my throat I could get neither up nor down.

"I then began to have blinding headaches across over my eyes and through my temples. When the disease and soreness began to extend to my chest, it seemed as though I could endure it no longer. I became weak and nervous. My chest became so sore that I could bear no pressure on it. Then, too, terribly severe pains took me through the chest back through under the shoulder blades. At night I had suffocating spells; there was a feeling of tightness across my chest. I was so nervous and suffered so much I could not sleep at all. I would read for hours to try to get sleepy but to no avail. I could not sleep an hour at a time. In the morning I was tired and exhausted.

"Of course I tried to get relief, but until lately failed entirely. The doctors I saw all gave different opinions of my case. Some said it was bronchitis, others did not seem to know what it was. They gave me a little medicine which did me no good. I had become completely discouraged and had come to the conclusion there was no cure for troubles like mine.

"Finally, however, I decided to try Drs. Copeland and Bell as their charges were light and the statements published I knew to be genuine.

"I began to improve in a short time. My nose and throat became clear. The headache disappeared. The soreness in my chest and pains vanished. I sleep well and get up refreshed in the morning. My throat improved wonderfully. I have gained in strength, and feel in every way like a new man. No one can realize what a relief it is to feel well after suffering 12 long years. I am truly grateful to Drs. Copeland and Bell, and would recommend them as skillful specialists in the treatment of cases like mine."

Mr. Young, as stated above, resides at 551 Erie street, where his statement can be easily verified.

WON AND LOST A GAME

Alvord's Apostles at the Toledo Park.

St. Paul Dropped from the Western.

A Number of Small Cities Will be Induced to Come in and Fill Up the Gap.

St. Paul has been dropped by the Western League and the club is now hanging together in hopes some other city will gather a few dollars together and adopt the aggregation. St. Paul has played good ball, but the League grew weary of footing the bills and marked the town off the list.

The meeting of the League was held in Chicago yesterday. All the clubs were represented as follows: O. M. Evans, Columbus; W. F. C. Golt, Indianapolis; J. W. Speas, Kansas City; Ralph Stout, Omaha; C. H. Morton, Minneapolis; J. C. Iverson, Milwaukee, and J. W. Gunnell, Toledo. President Williams represented St. Paul for the League, a fact which partly explains the necessity for the meeting.

The St. Paul club has been run entirely by the League, the latter being promised that a company would be formed to take the club off its hands. The company, however, has failed to materialize, and circumstances are such as to make the dropping of St. Paul a necessity, and this was decided upon. The cities which applied for the vacant place are Denver, Grand Rapids and Fort Wayne. Terre Haute is a possibility. Certain conditions were telegraphed these clubs after the meeting, and if satisfactory answers are received the vacancy will be filled at an adjourned meeting to be held to-day, when the resulting changes in the schedule will also be made.

While the League is in session it had better provide emergencies, as many of them are staring the institution in the face.

Milwaukee drew 300 people yesterday, and it is doubtful if Indianapolis would draw any.

Look out for squalls in the Western.

Toledo played two games with St. Paul Monday. Won one by a score of 3 to 2, and presented one to the visitors on a silver-mounted platter by a score of 4 to 3. Dewald pitched the first game and did splendid work. In the latter part of the game Campion was hurt, and Darling took his place.

In the second game Clarke and Darling was the battery, with Hurley on first base. Clarke pitched a splendid game, which could have been won at a number of stages by a hit. The score of the second game is as follows:

The Cleveland World printed a good picture of Charles Dewald, the clever Toledo pitcher, on Sunday, and said:

"Dewald is a Cleveland boy and deserves all the success that comes to his bat. Last year he was with Sioux City, where he won many a game against heavy odds. In 1890 his good pitching won the pennant for Jamestown. After the season he pitched two games for Al Johnson's brotherhood team and won them both. Charley will certainly prove a big help to the Toledo club this season."

WAS CAPT. EGAN KILLED

His Mysterious Disappearance in Chicago.

No Trace of Him for Ten Days.

The Belief is Gaining Grounds That the War Among the Sailors Has Become Very Serious.

Chicago, May 17.—Has Capt. P. W. Egan, of Cleveland, been murdered?

His friends are anxiously asking and trying to definitely answer that question. He disappeared in Chicago under mysterious circumstances and while he was supposed to have been in possession of considerable money.

Ten days ago he was sent here in company with Mr. Biemel to establish a Chicago shipping office of the National Lake Carriers' association.

This association was formed in Detroit, April 28, by vessel owners, for the purpose, it is said, of employing non-union seamen, and thus becoming independent of the powerful Seamen's union. For this reason Capt. Egan's mission to Chicago was looked upon with anything but favor by members of the Seamen's union.

He was making preparations to fit up an office in rooms 12 and 13, Lumberman's Exchange, South Water and Franklin streets, when he suddenly disappeared last Tuesday, and nothing has since been heard of him. He did not drink, so the theory of a spree is untenable.

Capt. S. B. DeMass said he met Capt. Egan six days ago at Main street, near the stockyards, and that at that time he had over $500 in his pockets.

"Capt. Egan had told me before of threats made against him by union men," said Capt. DeMass, "but he paid little attention to them. He was a courageous and powerful man, and for that reason I believe that he was foully dealt with instead of getting scared and running away, as some people say."

The fact of his disappearance was given to Chief of Police McClaughrey and the detectives several days ago, with a description of the man. The police have had abundant time to work upon the case, and yet have failed to find a single clue to his whereabouts.

He roomed next to Capt. Biemel on Cottage Grove avenue, near Thirty-fifth street, and his clothing and effects remain in the room just as he left them the morning he was last seen. Egan makes his home in Cleveland, and has for years. The detectives have made due inquiry there and have found no trace. The officers say that it is certain that he has not returned home.

From Cleveland it is learned that Capt. Egan had sailed for a number of years on the lakes, and that for the last few seasons he had acted as walking delegate during strikes and trouble on the docks for the Cleveland Vessel Owners' association, which was last month merged into the National Lake Carriers' association, of which it was practically the founder. He has one son living in Cleveland.

Secretary Elderkin, of the Seamen's union disclaimed any knowledge regarding Egan's disappearance. Said he: "Capt. Egan's name has never been mentioned in any of our meetings, and not half of our men even know that he was here."

Capt. Ben Smith some time ago attempted to establish a non-union vessel owners' shipping office in Chicago, but he was several times brutally assaulted and three weeks ago he left town thoroughly frightened, but not before he had secured police protection from his boarding place to the depot, it is claimed.

The Coast Seamen's Journal in its issue of May 11, says that the organization of the National Lake Carriers' association was for the avowed purpose of crushing out unions. With this as a text it calls upon all good union men to stand up for their rights.

THE BILLS WERE PAID,

Then the Gas Trustees are Asked for Approval.

Over Two Hundred Dollars Turned Into the Treasury Which Were Unclaimed—Regular Meeting of the Gas Board.

One of the most singular incidents connected with the building of the pipe line is the fact elicited at the regular meeting last evening that wages amounting to $227 remained uncalled for. Inasmuch as it is supposed that the dozen or so patriots to whom the money is due gave their services to the city gratis, it was resolved to return the money to the treasury.

The committee on claims presented well rentals payable amounting to $886, and the same were ordered paid, Mr. Backus voting no on the Perry township rentals, claiming that the city is deriving no benefit from the field.

Bills to meet claims for money advanced to pipe streets, amounting to $56, were presented. Mr. Backus objected to refunding money in cases where parties subscribed and then, for reasons of their own, canceled their contracts.

Mr. Voit agreed with Mr. Backus. He did not see how the bill could be liquidated except through the use of gas by the debtor.

Secretary Brown said the money was already paid.

Mr. Voit wanted to know what was the sense of bringing before the board bills that had already been paid.

Gen. Greene explained how the money was advanced, and said it was customary for the secretary to refund money in the way he had done in the present case.

The fact was elicited that landlords are being paind 50 per cent. of funds advanced by them out of the receipts to bills for gas consumed by tenants of said landlords.

Mr. Voit thought the board should deal directly with the consumers.

Mr. Backus said the payments in such cases were clearly illegal. There were no contracts, simply an understanding made verbally.

A motion to pay the bills carried, Mr. Backus voting no.

A schedule of bills for $33 due on contracts cancelled were ordered paid.

Manager Heston recommended that all the surplus pipe and fittings be converted into money.

Mr. Romeis made the point that the money would go into the treasury and could not be used except for operating purposes.

A motion to lay the recommendation on the table carried.

The monthly report was referred to the finance committee.

Receipts from May 10 to May 16 were $3,867; amount in treasury, $15,277.

TRAIN WRECKERS.

The Baltimore & Ohio Limited Has a Narrow Escape.

Tiffin, O., May 17.—Two dastardly and desperate attempts to wreck Baltimore & Ohio trains were made a few miles west of Fostoria at an early hour in the morning. Twenty-five heavy wooden ties were placed on the track and were struck by the westbound limited passenger train while it was making not less than 55 miles an hours. Owing to a drenching rain which was falling, the track and ties were slippery and the obstruction slid in front of the pilot instead of wrecking the train. The locomotive was somewhat damaged and the passengers thrown from their seats, but no one was injured.

A LONG SCHEDULE,

But the Aldermen Wade Through the Same

With Little Effort at Oratory—A Grist of Bond Authorized—Oil Pipe Line Ordinance Recommitted.

The board of aldermen at its regular meeting last evening had before it the longest schedule of business that has been made up for several years. The prospect of an all-night session shut off all petty debate, and in consequence everything went with a rush.

Under the call for new business Mr. Peiter presented a resolution to grade the alley between Washington and Bartlett streets from Nineteenth to Twenty-second street. This was adopted.

The effect of the late bridge accident was made apparent in a resolution presented by Mr. Graham and adopted by the board. It provides that the bridge committee of the council shall confer with the railroad companies with a view to having all bridges constructed in a manner suitable to modern traffic.

Another resolution from Mr. Peiter was adopted directing the harbor master to remove the old fruit stand near the Perry street bridge.

The ordinance authorizing the Paragon Refining company to lay an oil pipe line in certain streets was referred back to the street committee on motion of Mr. Graham, the vote being—ayes, Graham, Hartford, Peiter, Wolfman and Huberich; noes, Hall, Hassenzahl, Hodge and Leroux.

Other business, consisting of small matters, from the committees on streets and sidewalks, was passed.

When the ordinance to increase the huckster's license from $20 to $75 came up, Mr. John S. Rowe was allowed to address the board. He opposed the ordinance on behalf of the hucksters, and it was referred back to the committee for further consideration.

At a meeting of the ways and means committee held before the board to issue certificates of indebtedness to an amount not to exceed $25,000 to take up a number of overdue certificates outstanding. This recommendation was passed by the board.

The ordinance to issue $100,000 worth of bonds for natural gas purposes was passed after a short discussion.

The ordinance to issue general fund refunding bonds to the amount of $110,000, fire department bonds to the amount of $30,000 and $8,000 of harbor dredging bonds were passed.

The long schedule of business from the lower board was passed.

SIAMESE KING'S GLASS HOUSE.

The King of Siam has just had a pavilion of glass built for himself by a Chinese architect, the material for which, our Paris correspondent says, was furnished by a French company. Walls, floors, and ceiling are formed of slabs of different sorts and thicknesses of glass joined by impermeable cement. By one door only can the king enter, and this closes hermetically when he comes in, and ventilator valves in tall pipes in the roof open, as does also a sluice beside a large reservoir in which the glass house stands. The transparent edifice then becomes sumberegd, and the king thus finds himself in a cool and perfectly dry habitation, where he passes the time singing, smoking, eating and drinking.

IN THE BOODY HOUSE BAR

A Man Pulls a Revolver and Threatens to Shoot.

Yesterday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, a well dressed man standing before the bar in the Boody House, drew a revolver and pointing it at a man with whom he had been talking, exclaimed, "Stand back, you have attempted to take my life before, and if you take one step toward me I'll shoot." The bar tender rushed out from behind the bar and grabbed the man with the gun and unarmed him. Both men are still stopping at the Boody, but their names cannot be learned.

TWENTY CENT GAS

At Dayton—The Price Agreed Upon With the Authorities.

Dayton has concluded its "gas war," and the council has passed an ordinance fixing the rate to be charged for natural gas at 20 cents net, with 10 per cent added if not paid within 10 days. The contract is for five years from December 23, 1892, at the conclusion of present agreement. The figures agreed upon are just double those paid since the introduction of gas into the Gem City.

He Stops With a Party Enroute for Ann Arbor.

The main line was assessed, Toledo to Findlay, $6,000 per mile; Findlay to Kenton, $3,000 per mile.

MAYOR EMMICK

Makes a Denial for Mr. Jacob Kurtz.

Mayor Emmick, with a laudable desire to correct the Bee in any errors that it may make, says that Mr. Jacob Kurtz did not say that Emmick had made promises to him regarding the meat inspectorship. "This promising business is getting to be a chestnut," said the mayor this morning. "I saw Mr. Kurtz to-day and he told me that he had never said that I had promised to vote against Mr. Brown, and I promised him that I would have the statement corrected." The Bee made the statement on what it regarded as reliable authority, but the mayor is entitled to his say, hence it is printed as given.

AT THE ASYLUM.

It Is Superintendent Tobey Again—Trustees in Session.

The trustees of the asylum met in regular monthly session at the institution this morning. There were only three present—Dr. Baxter, Dr. Campbell and William Geyser. Superintendent Tobey formally assumed his duties as successor to Dr. Tupper.

Most of the session thus far has been occupied in auditing the bills, considering bids for meat and other supplies, and making the customary inspection of the property. Bellman & Machen secured the meat contract. It is not likely Dr. Tobey will submit any appointments for confirmation to-day, as he proposes to take his time before making selections.

OFF FOR CLEVELAND.

Among those at the depot were G. Fleischman, Phl. Hassenzahl, jr., D. C. Hight, J. G. Kapp, Phil. Schmidt, Geo. W. Stough, Thor Holst and W. A. DeForest. Several were accompanied by ladies. The party will return to-morrow evening.

The report of Grand Secretary Chidsey shows that there are 704 lodges in the state, a net increase of five for the year. The total membership is 58,651, a net increase of 1,734. The cash receipts by the lodges for the year were $523,598.88. The total expenditures were $472,672.83. There are also 257 Rebekah lodges with a membership of 16,604.

TO GO AHEAD.

The Conclusion Arrived at by the First Presbyterian Folks.

An adjourned meeting of the First Presbyterian church congregation was held last night to receive the report of the committee appointed to consult with the Westminster congregation relative to church location. Mr. T. S. Vanstone was moderator and Mr. F. O. Paddock, clerk. The result of the deliberations as already printed in the Bee were made known, and the report was accepted. After discussion pro and con, a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions an dlook up a location for the building of a new church edifice at some point in the Seventh ward. Messrs. F. O. Paddock, J. H. Ainsworth and J. R. Calder compose the committee, with power to add to the number with persons interested in that vicinity. The meeting then adjourned subject to the call of this committee.

IT WILL BE FORT WAYNE

Nobody Else Wanted the Franchise.

Very Probable That the League Will Have to Maintain a Club There.

Chicago, May 17.—The Western Base Ball association magnates have not yet disposed of the franchise of the St. Paul club. They received unsatisfactory offers this morning from Grand Rapids and Denver. Fort Wayne also sent a proposition which is likely to be accepted, unless one of the other towns should conclude to better its offer.

The matter will be definitely settled this evening, and from the present outlook it is probable that Fort Wayne will be presented with a club.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Motion for new trial has been filed in the case of Baker against the Lake Shore.

Husbands should not be surly. They should chew Sweet Grape Plug and be good natured.

Railroad Commissioner Kirkby is in Cincinnati, investigating Sunday morning's wreck on the Big Four.

Other languages come easy to the Russians, just as it comes easy for any man to chew "Indian Brand" fine cut.

Coroner Beckwith closed his investigation of the recent bridge accident yesterday. His verdict is reserved for a time.

The Consolidated company had men at work all of last night putting in new tracks on Ottawa street and fixing lines on the Perry street bridge.

The county commissioners will meet with the infirmary directors to-morrow morning to discuss the advisability of erecting an annex to the infirmary for the insane.

The Finlay Brewing company has brought suit in the supreme court to reverse the judgment given against them in favor of George Bauer. The suit comes from Lucas county. Bauer worked for the brewing company, and on October 20, 1890, caught a finger under some barrels which he was hoisting. He sued the company for $5,000 and got $450. The company appeals.—Columbus Press.

A motion for leave to file a petition in error to the common pleas court of Lucas county was filed in the supreme court yesterday. The case is George P. Haskell v The State of Ohio. Last September Haskell was convicted of forging a note on the Globe National bank of Boston for $125, by signing the name of J. H. Lee, president. The paper was honored by Harry D. Wood. Haskell received five years and is now in the penitentiary. The ground of error is that the indictment was not indorsed by the foreman of the grand jury.—Columbus Journal.

Blunders that are amusing, provoking and senseless, sometimes appear in print, and one of the latter appeared last night in the Bee's report of Rev. E. E. Williams' sermon on Sunday base ball. The reporter quoted the gentleman as saying that the laboring men in working for the abolishment of the Sabbath were "riveting their shackels," but the compositor made it read "investing their shackels," which made the sentence meaningless. If he had inserted "in an unprofitable manner," perhaps he would have got Mr. Williams' idea of the way the "shekels were invested."

Non-Union Ore Handlers at Escanaba

Attacked With Powder and Ball.

Serious Rioting with Winchesters Brought Into Use—General Marine News of the Lakes.

Escanaba, Mich., May 17.—Yesterday 150 union ore trimmers from this city went to North Escanaba and attacked the non-union men who were trimming a vessel at that place, with firearms.

A lively skirmish ensued and bullets from both sides flew thick and fast for a few minutes.

Clark Williams, a non-unionist, was shot in the leg and back and may die.

Charles Hamilton was also hit by a bullet, but the shot will not probably prove fatal. After these men were shot the mob of union men fled. No arrests have been made.

Cleveland Rates.

Cleveland, May 17.—Coal shippers are still warding off 50-cent rate to Duluth and Superior. Fleet at Lake Erie ports is larger than for several days and coal men are again offering only 45 cents. There is big demand for vessels at 75 cents from Escanaba and $1.20 from Ashland, but none are to be had at these figures.

The city council last night resolved to widen Rice's point channel this season.

Nearly every vessel coming into the harbor uses this channel, which is now only wide enough for two boats to pass.

The mayor was authorized to appoint a policeman to act as harbor master.

It is understood that the plan of tunneling underneath the canal to Minnesota point has been abandoned, and that a railroad will ask permission to build trestle to Minnesota point with a draw at the harbor entrance. The question will come before the city council Wednesday.

In Local Marine Circles.

The coal business, lake and rail, centering at Toledo has picked up wonderfully this week, due to the weather and several other causes. Rates are also stiffening up.

The Koal Kabin has been loading with coal for Pt. Edward at the Ironville docks. She will clear to-day.

J. S. Nesbit, of Sarnia, Ont., a large vessel owner and coal carrier, is calling on Toledo coal road officials to-day. Mr. Nesbit said that recently six of his vessels were windbound and three were on the dry docks, the whole nine of them not bringing in a cent and salaries going on. That's what makes the vessel owners weep.

THROUGH A TRESTLE.

Bad Accident to a Circus Train.

Atchison, Ks., May 17.—At 2:45 this morning the first section of a train on the Missouri Pacific road carrying part of Ringling Brothers' circus, went through a trestle about midway between Concordia and Ames.

Two of the circus employes, names unknown, were instantly killed. None of the train employes were seriously injured.

The locomotive passed over the trestle, but four cars passed through, dragging the engine backwards and piling all in a heap at the bottom of the ravine.

The cars were loaded with horses, many of which were killed. The trestle was recently examined and thought to be all right. It is supposed the recent heavy rains had undermined the foundation.

AN AFFECTING SCENE.

The Young Wife of Van Loon Visits Him in Prison.

Columbus, May 17.—The young wife of Van Loon, the Columbus Grove murderer, spent last evening with her husband at the penitentiary annex. It was the first time she had visited her husband since he was placed in the slaughter pen, and their meeting was affecting in the extreme.

The tearful young wife clung to the cruel bars which separated her from her husband, who is scarcely more than a bridegroom, and her form quivered with sobs of agony.

Van Loon himself succeeded in preserving a stolid demeanor, and presented a striking contrast of indifference to his wife's grief.

During the evening the guards brought to the annex a negro prisoner, who is an expert on the mouth harp, and a musical medley, reaching all the way from plantation love songs to religious hymns, entertained the condemned man.

CHICAGO PACKERS.

The Big and Little Dealers Trying to Get Together.

Chicago, May 17.—Rumors were afloat this morning that the war between the big and little packers had been ended by a compromise and that the hatchet was to be buried.

None of the packers would talk, but Levi Mayer, the attorney for the small or "outside" packers, said that no arrangement had been reached.

He intimated, however, that negotiations were in progress which might terminate the trouble, subject to the decision of the cases pending before Judge Tuley.

CRAZED BY OPIUM.

Valparaiso, Ind., May 17.—Dr. W. A. Yohn, a former well known professor in the Chicago Medical college, and one of the leading practitioners in this city and state, was declared of unsound mind today. He will be taken to the Logansport hospital. Dr. Yohn was secretary of the county board of health. His derangement was brought about by excessive indulgence in opiates.

JUMPED FROM THE BRIDGE.

Memphis, Tenn., May 17.—At 5:40 o'clock last night Thomas F. Madden, of this city, made the phenomenal dive of 149 feet into the Mississippi river, thus eclipsing Brodie's leap from Brooklyn bridge. Madden jumped from the iron girders that rise on either side of the roadway. He did not drop as professionals do, but leaped feet down.

ASYLUM APPOINTMENTS.

Columbus, O., May 17The board of trustees of the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind asylums were in session till a late hour yesterday. MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

Bucyrus, May 17.—A northbound train on the Toledo & Ohio Central road, struck a man on a high trestle. The yard engine, following later, found him sitting beside the track.

When questioned he said he wasn't hurt, but on examination a large hole in his head showed plainly he was. The engineer went to call help, but when he returned the man was gone.

Diligent search has been made, but no trace of him can be found. It is thought he fell into Sandusky river, which is on a boom, and was drowned.

English Social Movements.

The wide-spread interest manifested in English social and labor questions, and the comparisons made in the daily prints between conditions there and in this country, makes a volume of essays on the subject, by so competent an authority as Prof. Archey Woods ,lecturer at Andover Seminary, and head of Andover house, Boston, a most valuable and welcome addition to the literature of the study table. Mr. Woods spent six months in London, at Toynbee Hall, and in other leading cities of England and Scotland and took his observations and information first hand. In the preface to his chapters he says:

"I have not attempted to institute a running comparison between the English social situation and the American. I may, however, express my increasing conviction of the substantial emptiness of the kind of criticism made upon the constitution of English society, which is intended to be an indirect felicitation of ourselves over our own social conditions.

"The American aristocracy is more powerful and more dangerous than the English. Our class system is not less cruel for having its boundaries less clearly marked. And it can be no longer taken for granted that workingmen are better off in the United States than in England.

"The coal mines in the north of England have strong trades unions, work eight hours or less a day, support their co-operative stores and in some places are organizing University-Extension centers. The coal miners of Western Pennsylvania, already low enough, are being forced lower by competition of the latest Continental immigrants, with their unspeakably degraded standard of life. * * *

We are beginning to see that the problem of lower New York is, in some respects, even more serious than the problem of East London."

Commissioner Carroll D. Wright's recent report bears out these statements, in a statistical way. The last two years have opened a new era in the history of the working class in England. Their progress has more than kept pace with our own, for there labor has had greater barriers to surmount from the beginning. This is a country of free men. Every natural advantage is in favor of the working people; the hindrances are artificial creations.

To twit one of being a sympathizer with Johnny Bull or a resurrected tory, because he meets a matter and faces it as it is, is simply to create prejudice in unthinking minds for a time. Any argument for or against tariff trade laws, for instance, based upon the conditions of workingmen as they exist in protected Germany, free-trade England or protected America, is necessarily fallacious. It is an appeal to deep-seated prejudice and a reverence paid to exploded theories. To deny facts does not change them.

What Ails Kansas?

Mr. Taylor, of Ohio, knows what is the matter with the people of Kansas. He told it yesterday to the members of the house, in session—"They haven't the snap of New England people; they should work more and complain less. They should talk less about mortgages and more about business." Then there is something the matter with Kansas. The fact has been energetically contradicted by the party which preaches and puts into practice the theory that agriculture should bear the burden of taxation for the other industries of the country. This confessed, the question arises—Why should there be anything the matter with the people of Kansas, or Nebraska, or Iowa, or Illinois, or any other rich farming state? That farmers do not work enough and do talk too much about forbidden subjects, is too mean and silly an assertion for a moment's consideration. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." If a man's acres are likely to slip from him into the hands of some ten-to-twenty per cent. eastern capitalist, and his family be left homeless, he will be quite likely to talk about it. It happens to be his "business." This is what ails Kansas and every other agricultural state: the farmers buy their goods in a protected and trust-regulated market. They pay tax on nearly every article of domestic consumption; they pay more for an American-made reaper or plow than does the Canadian over the border; they pay trust-regulated prices on every mile of wire fence; they pay tax on crockery, iron and tin ware, on carpets and blankets; then when they sell their wheat they sell it at prices made in the world's markets. All the laws of commerce are against them; the railroads, subsidized by the government, and enabled to control legislation for their own ends and interests, rob them—these are a few of the things that ail the Kansas people, and they are beginning to find it out. It isn't that they work too little and talk too much. Mr. Taylor of Ohio is either utterly stupid, else he is purposely false and mean.

A Good Innovation.

Somehow the so-called agricultural fairs of the country are not nearly so well patronized as formerly, and various reasons are given therefor. To make a fair a success there must be sufficient revenue to provide liberal premiums and pay current expenses. As the only means of raising funds is from attendance of people, it follows that the directors must provide such attractions as will bring together thousands of people from near and far. It puts the officers to their wits' ends sometimes to know what to do, and from this very difficulty has grown the fakes, the sideshows, and the hundreds of devices which, for liberal pay, have been permitted to exhibit upon county and district fair grounds. To such an excess has this evil grown that many societies have become nuisances and have closed their business.

In Hillsdale, Michigan, an innovation is introduced this year. In addition to the "agricultural hoss trot," which must be a feature of all well regulated fairs, the directors have hung up premiums of the most extravagant nature for the products of the farm. The word extravagant is not used in a critical sense, but the amount is so large as to attract wide attention, and undoubtedly the rivalry will be profitable. For instance, one hundred dollars is offered for the largest three cabbages, competition open and none barred; fifty dollars for the second largest three. Forty dollars will be paid for the best five varieties of apples for market and twenty dollars as second premium. Like premiums are offered for other products.

This is a change with a whereas, and much interest will attend the outcome of the new arrangement. The success will largely depend upon the liberality and enterprise of the agriculturists themselves. They ought to attend, from grandfather down to babies, from every township and section, miles around. It is to be an agricultural show, and if it fails the farmers will largely be to blame. The officers have faith in the scheme and everybody will wish them well in their undertaking.

The chief law-making of the country just now consists of measures to defeat the effect of the iniquitous law of laws, the robber tariff. Representative Hall of Minnesota has brought in a bill providing that the wardrobe of a returning old-world tourist shall not exceed one hundred dollars in value. To be sure goods are cheaper over the other side, and a vast difference may be calculated upon in woolen garments, but when it comes to lace flounces and silken gowns of fashion—one hundred dollars, think of it! The people whose wardrobes are worth that sum are they who stay at home and pay McKinley prices for their goods.

The best business move the natural gas trustees could make would be to profit by the experience of other cities and advance the price to a fair remunerative point—a price that will give the present taxpaying generation an idea of the probable time of payment of the debt. And, the greater income the better, as perhaps the other bonded debt of the city may be relieved, according to the original expectation of all of us who were enthusiastic pipe liners. It is good business policy to advance the price to any reasonable extent, always keeping it below the price of coal. No fuel consumer could then complain.

The campaign is opened. "England is for Grover Cleveland and the Cobden club is doing all it can." The New York Recorder says so. That the republican paty sent the Cobden club to wreck, dissolved it, bankrupted, a little time ago, because "its free trade ideas were no longer popular in England," doesn't matter, when campaign material is needed.

Department Commander Mack carries his newspaper instincts into his official position and kindly offers to furnish copies of all general orders and other department news to the papers when it is news, fresh news. That's the kind of a commander to have. We lift our hat to Comrade Mack.

A MERRY PARTY

Left This Morning to Attend the Wedding

Of Geo. G. Hadley, Jr., and Miss Sargeant at Grand Rapids To-morrow Morning—Aboard Mr. Hadley's Private Car.

A merry party of Toledoans departed for Grand Rapids, Mich., this morning on Mr. G. G. Hadley's private car, to be present at the nuptials of George G. Hadley, Jr., and Miss Pearle Belle Sargeant, which occurs to-morrow morning at St. Mark's church, Grand Rapids.

The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. C. Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Chapin, Dr. and Mrs. Parmalee, Miss Nettie Van Dusen, Mrs. Dr. Tipple, Mrs. C. E. Thompson, Lysle Hubbard and Preston Craig.

The two last will act as ushers. Sidney Carter accompanied the party as chef de cuisine, and there was no lack of good things.

Mr. Hadley, the anticipating, prospective benedict, left for the scene of action several days since. Mr. and Mrs. Hadley, who are to be, will be at home after September 1, at 1718 Madison street.

Plenty of congratulations will follow the event, but even before the ceremony it might not be amiss to wish them a bright and happy wedding day, a golden honeymoon and a married life that will be full of success and happiness.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Boies cyclone in Iowa is said to be reviving some decaying favorite son booms in other states. Other states may have favorite sons, but none but Iowa has a Horace Boies.—St. Louis Republic.

Bro. Watterson is still argufying against Cleveland's nomination, and the Kentucky democrats keep right on electing Cleveland delegates. Either the Kentucky democrats don't take the papers, or else they have got some opinions of their own.—Boston Herald.

Astors die and cherish the hope that their "money may be kept in the family." Astors may possibly live in an age when less of the people's toll will be absorbed under provisions of a will made by a selfish grabber.—Chicago Times.

The organization of rivermen and civil engineers proposing to subject all schemes for improving the Mississippi to severe scientific criticism before submitting them to congress is a union of forces that has long been needed and that will have immense scope for usefulness.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

If any seer should rise up and tell these people the true future of this state and the whole Mississippi valley he would be mocked and jeered as a lunatic or a fool. And yet his brightest pictures will seem dull when the realization comes, as it must come.—Omaha Bee.

The presidential bee is again buzzing in Chauncey Depew's bonnet. Abraham Lincoln once said that no man could hereafter become president of the United States who spelled negro with two gs. In the same manner, it can be just as positively said today that no man can become president of the United States who has been president of Mr. Vanderbilt's railroad.—Boston Globe.

What will be the outcome in the future? Will the great west and the great south yield to the domination of a plutocracy concentrated in a narrow strip of territory in the east, or will they utilize the power of their numerical majority at the polls, and, after securing control of the government, proceed with the experimental legislation which they believe will correct the economic evils of the times.—Atlanta Constitution.

Another week has passed and although Mr. Harrison knows that Raum is a conspirator, a suborner of perjury, a corruptionist and the protector of an assailant of a woman's virtue he does not remove the commissioner with the "pull." Raum is still issuing orders on the treasury for pensions, and there is no apparent reason why he should correct his morals or his methods so long as this administration remains in office.—New York World.

The Chinese must go unless they can show the documents to prove that they had landed in this country of honey and flowers before November 17, 1880.

Such is the law approved May 5. In conversation with a Bee, Inspector Ryan said: "There are 15 Chinamen in Toledo who will have to pack up their tubs and wooden arithmetics and emigrate back to the flowery kingdom. If they ever show their pigtail heads in this country again and are caught, they will be imprisoned one year at hard labor and then removed from the United States. I will now begin to pray for the good work to go on and exclude other obnoxious nationalities."

TALK OF CUTTING

The Lumber Rates From Toledo South.

Earnings of Local Roads—The Clover Leaf Above Water—Matters of Interest to Local Railroaders.

It is rumored in local railroad circles that the Cincinnati lines from Toledo are agitating the question of reducing lumber rates Toledo to Cincinnati. If this is done, it is said that it will have the effect of demoralizing lumber rates to Ohio river points and will cause great disturbance on rates throughout Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

On the Increase Again.

The earnings of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City railroad showed a large decrease last week, a very unusual occurance. For the second week in May, however, the road gets on the proper gait and comes to the front with an increase. The earnings for the week were $37,654, as compared with $36,606 for the same week of last year, showing an increase of $1,048.

The Clover Leaf All Right.

Chief Engineer A. L. Mills of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City railroad, is at St. Louis keeping an eye on the company's property there in consequence of the high water in the Mississippi. Evidently there is no danger, as the passenger department issues the following to connecting lines:

"During the present high water, arrangements have been made to use the Merchant's bridge and connecting tracks on the west side of the Mississippi river to and from St. Louis Union depot. Clover Leaf trains will leave St. Louis Union depot 7:35 a. m. and 7:05 p. m., as usual. Our tracks have not suffered in the least.

BLOOD WAS SPILT.

C. S. Ashley and Stephen Brophy Come Together.

As a Result of the Decision in a Suit in Which They Were Opposing Attorneys—Police Court Will Settle the Matter.

Lawyers, like actors, do a great deal of sham fighting when before the footlights, that is called for by the nature of their following. However, like actors, they generally shake hands and ha ha over the thing when it is all over, and are the best of friends in private life, notwithstanding the occasional bickerings and tongue lashings that occur in court.

Occasionally blood will boil and won't be cooled. Such a thing happened yesterday, resulting in one prominent attorney getting his eye blacked and another being gathered in by the police.

It seems yesterday morning before Judge Pugsley, a case was being tried involving the payment of certain assessments on property belonging to Chas. S. Ashley, in consequence of street improvements, and which Mr. Ashley refused to pay or did not pay. At any rate the case was decided in favor of the plaintiff, who was represented by Stephen Brophy.

Mr. Ashley said that Mr. Brophy had agreed that the plaintiff would pay the costs in the case, which statement was denied. Mr. Ashley grew warm and warmer still, and as he passed out of court was so heated that he vowed he would lick Brophy.

This he proceeded to do later in the day. He met Mr. Brophy in the Produce Exchange about 3 o'clock and aproaching him without any intimation, assaulted him in a rough manner, knocking him down and causing the blood to spurt from a severe wound on the head.

Mr. Brophy as soon as able swore out a warrant for Mr. Ashley's arrest, and this morning he was brought into police court charged with assault and battery. He pleaded not guilty and stated he was not ready to proceed. The case was continued to Friday afternoon.

TIT FOR TAT.

The Legal Road Has Many Crooks and Turns.

Plaintiff in a Suit in the Lucas County Common Pleas Court—The Victims of Reaction.

The journal entry for a judgment of $10,000 against Mary T. Bernart was filed in common pleas court to-day.

The decree is in favor of Curtis T. Johnson, receiver of the Sienna Mineral Paint company.

The case develops some extraordinary proceedings in court.

Originally Mary T. Bernart brought proceedings in common pleas court against the Toledo Sienna & Mineral Paint company, as one of the stockholders for the appointment of a receiver, to close up the affairs of the concern.

The creditors of the company then turned on her, and filed a cross petition setting forth, that she was in possession of $10,000 worth of unpaid stock, and prayed that the subscription be paid up.

The case came to trial and the court decreed that the subscription must be paid.

The plaintiff lives at Detroit, and a petition is being prepared for the institution of proceedings to collect the amount.

PLEAD GUILTY.

Norwalk, O., May 17.—(Special)—Chas Monday plead guilty of adultery with sent to jail to await sentence. Mrs. Horton has left the city and Mr. Horton will sue for divorce.

COL. HOWE IN THE CITY

On His Way to Napoleon to Inspect the Militia.

Touring the State Looking at the Boys and Their Accoutrements—Quiet at Columbus—Harrison to be Renominated.

Assistant Adjutant General J. C. Howe, was in the city this morning enroute to Napoleon to inspect the company of militia at that point.

In conversation with a Bee, Col. Howe said: "I have been on inspection about six weeks now, and have covered the state to a large extent. I find the militia in splendid form, and most thoroughly drilled. It is exceedingly gratifying to note the interest taken in the new tactics, and the flattering progress the various companies are making in becoming familiar with them.

"I have not been in Columbus very much of late and am not up in the latest political gossip. I know peace and quietude prevail about the state house since the legislature adjourned.

"Harrison will no doubt be the choice of the Minneapolis convention, the Commercial Gazette to the contrary, nevertheless."

MAKING A STRONG BID.

Davis Still Arguing for the Fair.

Impressing the Committee With the Necessity of More Government Aid.

Washington, May 17.—Mr. Davis, director general of the World's fair, addressed the house World's fair committee to-day, regarding the responsibility of the government in connection with the exposition. Gen. Davis opened by referring to the act authorizing the exposition, and its purposes.

He reviewed the appropriation made by each state, their resources, the exhibits which might be expected from them and complimented each for its efforts. He brought the action of the states before congress, he said, to show members how much their constituents were interested.

Gen. Davis next took up and discussed the interest of foreign governments in the exposition; of their preparations for exhibits and the large amounts of money they had appropriated.

No limitation, he said, was placed on the president in inviting foreign governments to the exposition, and this government would be held responsible for the exposition and to seeing that foreign governments were properly provided for. Foreign governments and the several states had appropriated over $25,000,000 in connection wth the fair, and he asked if the United States could with honor transfer the exposition to a corporation of any kind.

Foreign governments were asking for space and already application had been made for more space than the commission had to allot. Gen. Davis in closing urged that an appropriation to aid the exhibition be made by congress.

Mr. McCreary called the attention of Mr. Davis to the question of closing the fair on Sunday, and asked him what effect Sunday closing would have.

Mr. Davis replied that he was not authorized to speak on this subject for those connected with the exposition, as it had not been discussed by them, but said that if the exposition was closed on Sunday it would largely decrease the receipts.

Commissioner Walker stated that Messrs. Field, Armour, Palmer, and other wealthy gentlemen of Chicago had signed an agreement to furnish any money found necessary to run the fair after the government had appropriated the $5,000,000 asked for. These agreements, he said, would be presented to the committee. The comittee adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

THE GRANITE WORKERS.

The Program of the Strikers Being Executed.

New York, May 17.—The strike of the men connected with the granite industry against the New England Contractors' association is rapidly assuming large proportions. It is estimated that fully 50,000 men were out at the hour for beginning to-day's work.

Eight thousand were ordered out in this city and Brooklyn yesterday.

The buiding business for the time is completely prostrated, as but few builders in the vicinity use stone that does not come from the blacklisted quarries.

Over a dozen barges are anchored in the Harlem river and in the New York bay laden with the boycotted stone.

Committees were sent out to-day to investigate all jobs now going on, with instructions to call out the men wherever the non-union stone is used. It is expected that in a few days fully 100,000 men will be on a strike.

THE WORK OF CONGRESS

A Bust of Von Steuben for Washington.

Another Bid for American Registry for Big Steamships—Capital Chat.

Washington, May 17.—On motion of Mr. Sherman, the Washington Schuetzen Verein was granted permission to erect at their own expense in one of the public squares a colossal bust of Baron Von Steuben.

The senate resumed consideration of the naval appropriation bill. Mr. McPherson (N. J.), who on Friday moved to substitute three harbor defense monitors for the vessels recommended in the amended bill, now modified his motion so as to simply provide for simply striking out of the bill the provision for a cruiser like the New York, to cost, exclusive of armament, $1,500,000, and a battleship to cost, exclusive of armament, $4,000,000. He considered these vessels of no use.

Mr. Higgins, of Delaware, addressed the senate in favor of the amended bill as reported.

Mr. Chandler introduced into the senate to-day another bill to give American registry to prospective United States cruisers. It recited that Austin Corbin, of New York, and his associates propose to incorporate a company under the laws of New York known as the American steamship company, with a capital of $10,000,000 for the purpose of constructing and purchasing a fleet of first-class passenger steamers to run between New York and ports in Great Britain, and enacted that all the vessels so owned, if not less than 5,000 tons burden and capable of a speed of not less than 19 knots, which might be acquired by purchase or otherwise by the company after the passage of this act, should be entitled to American registers on the same terms as granted to the steamships City of Paris and City of New York, and to all the other privileges granted by the act of May 10, 1892, providing that on making application for such registry for a foreign built ship, said Corbin and his associates shall show that they have contracted to build in an American shipyard a vessel of equal or greater tonnage.

GRAND ARMY VETERANS.

Toledo and Detroit Have a Jolly Time Together.

On the Occasion of the Visit of Forsyth Post to Fairbank's Post—Presentation of a Clock—Big Camp Fire.

Bring the good old bugle, boys, we'll sing another song,
Sing it with a spirit that will start the world along,
Sing it as we used to sing it, fifty thousand strong,
While we were marching through Georgia.

At half-past one o'clock yesterday afternoon a Lake Shore special train, consisting of six coaches, in charge of the irrepressible but accommodating and genial John E. Gunckel, the district passenger agent, and on board of which were the members of Forsyth post G. A. R., Woman's Relief corps and friends, left this city for Detroit to partake of the hospitality so cordially extended by Fairbanks post of that city.

The attendance was not too great for comfort, neither so small as to have a lonesome effect, and those who did go were in the best of spirits and on a gala time bent.

At Detroit the party was met by a detachment of Fairbanks post and W. R. C. The post formed and marched to the Perkins hotel, while the ladies were conveyed in carriages.

At 5 o'clock a splendid supper was served, after which an hour was spent observing the beauties of the City of the Straits.

At 7 o'clock both the Fairbanks and Forsyth posts formed at the hotel and marched to Harmonic hall, where the evening program was rendered.

The hall was beautifully decorated and was packed from pit to dome by G. A. R. boys and their friends.

Among those seated on the stage, were the following from Toledo: Mrs. W. I. Squire, Mrs. Judge Howe, Mrs. Elizabeth Mansfield Irving, Mrs. Dustin, Mrs. Eyster, Charles Wittich, W. I. Squire, Judge Howe, Jacob Englehardt, Mayor Emmick, A. J. Eyster, Gen. P. S. Slevin, and Dr. F. A. Kitchen.

Detroit was represented by the following: Mayor Pingree, Gen. Alger, Commander Curtis, Past Commander Patrick, Past Commander Davey, Junior Vice Commander John Quigley, Adjutant Claxton, Com. Lake, Quartermaster Doran, Major Denton, Past Senior Vice Commander Reed, Comrades Spillaine, Harvey, and Glaspie. Mrs. Emma Stark-Hampton, past president of the W. R. C. of Michigan, Miss Lydia Hopkins, Mrs. Parker, president of Fairbank's W. R. C., and Mrs. Adelaide Fairbanks-Wallace.

Past Commander Thomas Davey introduced Commander O. B. Curtis, of Fairbanks post, as master of ceremonies.

Mr. Curtis Welcomed Forsyth post and friends in a most cordial manner, and in doing so spoke of the warm friendship that has always existed between the two posts, that the feeling of comradeship was as strong to-day as when they fought shoulder to shoulder on fields of battle.

The address of welcome was followed by a song, "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," by a quartet composed of Frank D. Andrus, B. F. Briscoe, A. W. Baxter, and W. Scott Phillips.

Rev. Edward H. Harvey invoked the divine blessing, which was followed by the saluting of the flag by comrades.

Mrs. Agnes Lecke, Regal sang the following songs. "Mona," "A Summer Day," "Jack 'o Hazeldean," selected, which were pleasingly rendered.

Commander Curtis introduced Commander Squire, of Forsyth post, who in a speech, short, but to the point, expressed for the visitors the appreciation of the hospitality and kindness extended by Fairbanks post, W. R. C. and citizens of Detroit.

"With Forsyth post, and I understand it is thus with Fairbanks, all men who wore the blue in the dark days of war, and have honorable discharges, are alike, and always welcome to membership in our ranks, and are never dropped because they are too poor to keep up their dues."

This was followed by a solo by Mrs. Philo Hall. Mrs. Hall has a sweet voice, and was compelled to respond to a hearty encore.

Master Luman E. Claxton recited "An Old Soldier's Soliloquy" in a very entertaining manner.

"Brave Boys Are They" was sang by the quartet and encored.

A recitation, "After the Battle," by Miss Florence L. Dutton, came next. The selection is a pretty bit of emotional sentiment, and was rendered in a manner that gave evidence of rare elocutionary ability.

Hon. H. S. Pingree, mayor of Detroit, spoke for a few moments on general topics. Mayor Pingree is a genial, courteous gentleman and a fit representative of the hospitable city of Detroit.

Mrs. Richard gave a characteristic sketch from Josiah Allen's wife, entitled "The Fourth of July at Jonesville." She was dressed for the occasion and made a decided hit.

The chairman announced that Gen. Russell A. Alger had just stepped into the hall. Enthusiasm, almost violent in its magnitude prevailed at once. The people stood up and cheer after cheer filled the room. The popular Michigander was almost carried to the stage, where he made a short address, which was received in a similar manner. The chairman announced a recitation by Miss Genevieve Carpenter, of Toledo, and the little lady was received in a most hearty manner when she stepped forward. Toledo is familiar with the wonderful power Miss Carpenter has over an audience, and when she closed there was scarce a dry eye in the house. She retired amid a perfect storm of applause and was called back and presented with two beautiful boquets.

John T. Spillane, known as the "Original Drummer Boy of the Rappahannock," who distinguished himself in the service, gave an exposition of his ability as a drummer.

The chairman introduced W. I. Squire for a few remarks. In a very few words Mr. Squire unveiled the beautiful symbolic clock which he presented to Fairbanks post to keep them ever abreast of the times and a silent reminder that short speeches were best received.

This concluded the regular program. Judge Howe, Dr. Kitchen, Comrade Tingle, of Columbus Grove and others were called upon for remarks.

The camp-fire broke up at a late hour, and another link in the chain of fraternal friendship, binding the two together, was forged.

THE CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

Splendid Meeting of the Isabella Circle.

New Society Organized at Emory Hall Last Night.

The Isabella Reading club, Mrs. R. L. Segur, president, met with Mrs. J. W. Sykes, Segur avenue, yesterday afternoon. A large number of ladies were present, and were entertained by a very able paper read by Mrs. Sykes on "De Soto and His Discoveries," and an article from the April Harper on "The Mystery of Columbus," by Eugene Lawrence, read by Mrs. Richardson. On account of the departure from the city of the secretary, Mrs. A. P. Stevens, Mrs. Richardson was elected to fill that office. Resolutions of thanks to Mrs. Stevens for her good work for the club, and regret at her departure were adopted. At the last meeting Mrs. Segur was instructed to write to headquarters for information in regard to the location of the Isabella pavilion. The secretary read the following answer:

Mrs. Rosa L. Segur:—Your letter of inquiry just received. Will say that the building will be built. The negotiations for the necessary property near by the fair grounds are in active operation. As much more money is required to build, because the cost of ground anywhere near the fair is very high. We have formed a building association. All the accommodations promised the members for the $1 fee will be furnished them. The pavilion will be commenced August 1. FRANCES DICKINSON, Secretary.

The next meeting, which will be the last before the summer vacation, will be held with Mrs. R. F. Russell, 22 Twelfth street, Tuesday, June 21. The paper will be by Mrs. Richardson.

The latest society is the "Temperance Workers' union." It was formed last night at the meeting at Emory hall. The object of the new union is to unite the temperance workers of the city. Nearly two hundred people were present, and officers were elected: Rev. W. C. Hopkins, president, and E. Bartlett, treasurer. The presidents and secretaries of the temperance organizations of the city were appointed ex-officio presidents and secretaries. At the close of the meeting the White Rose league gave a very pleasant musical and literary entertainment.

The Home Aid association meets to-night instead of last night, as erroneously printed in Monday's Bee.

The Y. P. S. C. E. societies of the city go to Perrysburg to-night.

COLLEGE CLUBS MEET.

A Great Day Among the Students.

J. W. Burke, of the University of Michigan, to be President for a Term.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 17.—Delegates to the convention of college clubs have been arriving on every train. At 9 o'clock John M. Thurston and wife, of Nebraska, were escorted to the hotel, and on the same train were delegates from Albion, Olivet, Hillsdale and other places.

From 10 to 11 o'clock the delegates gathered in Newberry hall, and for an hour there was a busy scene of lobbying for the candidates for president.

At 11 o'clock James F. Burke, president of the University of Michigan club, called the meeting to order. He made a neat speech of acknowledgement.

A. E. Ewing, of Michigan, delivered the address of welcome, which consisted of a glorification of the republican party. The mention of Blaine's name elicited loud applause.

He extended a welcome on behalf of the 1,446 student republicans.

S. B. Draper, of Albion college, was elected temporary chairman, and J. W. Knowles, of Purdue university, was made temporary secretary.

Committees on credentials, rules, constitution, resolutions, platform and permanent organization were appointed and the convention adjourned until 2 p. m.

J. W. Burke is practically sure of the presidency, the committee on permanent organization being favorable to him.

KAISER WILLIAM.

He Continues to Talk to His Soldiers.

Dantzic, May 17.—Kaiser William made another sensational speech in responding to the toast of his health at a gathering of the members of the West Prussia provincial diet. The kaiser was received with a tremendous demonstration of loyalty. He said:

"May the sons of this country accept patiently whatever providence has in store for them, and wait confidently for the result which I may succeed in achieving during the future of toilsome years."

PASTURE AT $2 A MONTH!

I will take horses to pasture on my farm at Bay Shore. They will be looked after twice a day, be regularly salted and cared for. The pasture is part tame and part wild. When the tame pasture is exhausted, as is invariably the case in the middle of the summer, the wild pasture is rich and luxuriant, keeping the stock in prime condition the whole season.

The pasture fronts on the bay, so that the stock can stand in the water, which is of material benefit to horses which have become sore from being driven on the pavements. For further information address FRANK B. NILES, 357 Irving St., Toledo, O.

FRIENDS OF THE PUBLIC.

Men of Mark Who Gather News.

Some Personal Sketches and Incidents of Brain Workers in the Highest Walks of Life.

The reader of the morning paper who sits by his cozy fireside and is informed of what is transpiring in every quarter of the globe, seldom realizes the amount of actual labor necessary to ascertain, collect, write, transmit, and print this wonderful mass of news. And yet, aside from the special dispatches, it is largely centered in one office, located near the Telegraph building in New York, and presided over by a quiet gentleman in a most masterly manner.

Mr. William Henry Smith, manager of the Associated Press, is in the prime of life, and possesses a mind clear as to the requirements of the public. To properly and promptly handle the mass of matter that passes through his hands is an enormous undertaking, and one which may well test the capacity of any man. Mr. Smith has always been an arduous worker, and it is by no means surprising that his health should, in the past, have suffered more or less thereby. The mental strain necessary to the performance of his duties caused difficulties of digestion which are not easily overcome, and also a uremic colic, both painful and exhausting. All attempts to overcome these tendencies by force of will power failed, and he consulted eminent physicians, among them Dr Barthol of Philadelphia. In spite, however, of the care and skill of these practitioners, he grew worse constantly. The result can best be described in his own words. He said:

"My brother, C. W. Smith, manager of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, came to visit me, and, seeing my condition, took upon himself to conduct my case, and so secured a preparation which, I have since learned, he had used successfully himself and in his family. I began its use, and commenced improving at once. This improvement continued, until now I am well, and wholly through the influence of Warner's Safe Cure. I have since then used the remedy with good results in my family, and keep it on hand constantly. I consider it a remarkable medicine."

Mr. George Alfred Townsend, the famous newspaper correspondent, whose letters, written over the nom de plume of "Gath," have attracted such wide attention, said to the writer: "While in England I had a pleasant visit with ex-Gov. S. B. Packard, our consul at Liverpool. We were remarking on the death of a number of distinguished Americans, when the governor said: 'Townsend, I can't see why so many of our public men are passing away, victims of one dread scourge. There is no need of their dying if they will consent to avail themselves of what has been provided for them, as I have.' Gov. Packard went on to describe his experience, and I found his symptoms corresponded almost exactly to my own. I soon afterward returned to America, began the same treatment, and when I had taken a number of bottles of Warner's Safe Cure—the remedy Gov. Packard used and commended to me so strongly—I, too, was rid of backache, bad fluids, tired feelings, nervous prostration, irregular appetite, 'thick head,' and to-day am as sound as a nut. It indicated my disorder and removed it entirely. I regard it as a godsend to this country, where Bright's disease and all other kidney disorders are so prevalent."

The above statements are not from obscure sources, but from gentlemen in the most exalted stations of trust and responsibility, and the affirmations they make are the results of actual observation. Does it not stand to reason, therefore, that the article of which they speak is a most valuable one, and such as may be used with great benefit by all who are suffering?

HOPE.

Blithe poetess at the gateways of the soul!
Dear sycophant, that dost so fondly cling
To even our worst of sorrows! Bark whose wing
Dauntlessly voyages to illusion's goal,
Heedless if it be shadow, if rock and shoal!
White bird that carollest thine unwearying
Trebles of song, like those by new-born spring
Lured heavenward from some blossom-tinted knoll!

Ah, Hope, thou art sweet when mad seas glass wild skies,
When war, pest, earthquake riots in bitter glee,
Or yet when tyranny tortures and enslaves;
But sweetest when thy shape phantasmal flies,
A luminous dream named Immortality,
Over the darkness of earth's myriad graves!

Whenever he leaves his cottage or enters it he will bow before the image of a saint that invariably has its place in a corner at the window, and before which a small lamp is constantly burning. A fine geological specimen of fossil tracks was found a few days ago in Prainerd's quarry, in Portland, at a depth of 130 feet below the surface. On the upper side, as the stone lay when found, there are eight tracks, evidently made by some animal about the size of a large dog. They are absolutely perfect in shape, representing the toes and the ball of the foot.

The rim of the saw is studded with diamonds.

The southern cotton manufacturers are making very serious inroads in the trade of their New England competitors. Not only is the industry expanding rapidly in the south, says the Manufacturer's Record, but it is also improving steadily and surely. The only element required to bring the southern cotton manufacturing industry as a whole to the advanced stages that has been reached in New England is the simple element of time. The recognition of the south as a dangerous competitor in the cotton goods trade is an indication that the New England manufacturers realize their serious position and the necessity for vigorous action.

HIS FALSE LOVE.

Many years ago there lived in Kidwelly castle a proud lord and his only daughter, Gabrielle. She was a spoilt child and the most beautiful woman in the country.

Many were her flirtations, but she really fell in love with a penniless adventurer, Henri de Vinceuil, who had taken service with her father.

The latter, having discovered the attachment, banished Henri from his possessions, and a short time afterward the news was sent broadcast that Gabrielle was about to marry Count Louis de Castel.

Louis was in love, and made no cold lover, either; but even though he talked and laughed a shadow lay upon the girl's face, which at last attracting his attention roused a sting of jealousy.

"He was a handsome youth, that discarded lover of yours, Gabrielle," he said, affecting a laugh; "but it is an old truth that 'there's danger in playing with two-edged tools.' Gossips say he boasts that if the lover was warm the lady was willing, and I heard but yesterday that he'd sworn to join the crusading army and seek out a Paynim bride."

"Liar!" shouted a voice close by the speaker's side. "Draw and defend yourself. Henri de Vinceuil is neither a boaster nor—"

Before he could finish the sentence the count's sword flashed in the sunbeams and a volley of angry oaths fell from his lips.

He had not expected such an interruption, or that the lies should reach such interested ears, or be hurled back in his teeth.

"Stop, for heaven's sake!" cried Gabrielle, hanging upon his shoulder; "stop, I command you! Kill me, Henri, if you will! I am to blame—"

"Gabrielle, stand back!" and Louis threw her roughly off. "This man has insulted me. It is my quarrel now."

The fight did not last long. Henri had the advantage, both as a swordsman and in size and temper. He knew he was casting his life into the balance with a false and heartless coquet. As his passion cooled so did also his love, and when the point of advantage was gained—when Louis was beaten back, dropping the point of his sword, and that of Henri, sliding up, pierced his breast—Henri's anger was over, and something like regret, not to say sorrow, for the man who hung his heart upon such a slender branch as Gabrielle's faith was in his heart.

Suddenly turning to Gabrielle he said, sternly:

"I only desired revenge; had I felt as I do now, the utter worthlessness as such love as yours, this unfortunate man might have lived.

"I have one word to say—he was right. I am going to join the holy army, not because I despair of having you for a bride, but rather that I wish to forget that a woman could be so false and fickle, and that I was ever fool enough to trust in Gabrielle's truth or believe in Gabrielle's love."

Gabrielle would have answered him, but her eyes fell upon the ghastly form of her betrothed, lying in a pool of his own blood, but evidently not dead.

Gabrielle's gaity and coquetry charmed him in health, but reflection showed him that upon neither of these things could happiness rest.

He had heard Henri de Vinceuil's parting words and the truth settled in his heart. He loved Gabrielle no longer.

Still, honor prevented him from breaking off his engagement. But Gabrielle, slow to perceive the change, and, although for a long time she tried to appear blind, there came a day when her anger broke forth, and taunting him with his changed heart, caused him to speak the truth; and Gabrielle, who had really learned to love Louis as truly as such a heart of hers could love at all, found herself much in the same situation as that in which she had placed Henri.

Concealing this weakness as best she could, Gabrielle dismissed Count Louis and scornfully laughed as her companions accused her of a fresh case of heartbreak and caprice. The count thankfully accepting the alternative was glad to get his freedom at any price.

Time passed on. Gabrielle was as lovely and as capricious as ever, but somehow suitors hung back.

Henri de Vinceuil, having won fame and fortune by the work of his good sword, came back and Gabrielle would fain have persuaded him, as she did herself, that she had never really loved another, but had been the victim of the baron's tyranny, but in vain.

Henri found a truer bride; and Gabrielle, wearied of the world, expended all the wealth left by her father in building a convent, where she ruled supreme, and from which place she every year made a pilgrimage to the trysting rock, upon which she had caused a cross to be erected.

Gabrielle's cross has long been broken, but part of the shaft still stands, and keeps up the memory of the legend.—Boston Globe.

Little Edith's mother was explaining a map. "These," said she, "are mountains, this is a river, this is a lake, and these little dots are towns and cities." "And these, mamma," said Edith, referring to the lines of latitude and longitude, "these are the telephone and trolley wires."—Boston Transcript.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Andrew Carnegie is settled down for three months at Cowarth Park, near Sunningdale, in Scotland.

Congressman Geary, of California, the author of the anti-Chinese bill, is a native of Boston, where he was born in 1854. He has been in California since his tenth year.

Rev. Benjamin Waugh, editor of the Sunday Magazine, is the founder of the British Society for the Prenvention of Cruelty to Children, which is just now finding so many friends. Mr. Waugh's love of children is a passion.

Charles De Bodisco Templeman, the portrait painter, who counted on his picture of Conkling getting his book full of political orders, has been in Washington, where he came from, most of the winter. He thinks politicians are ungrateful.

Capt. Robert Gray, of the tea and fur ship Columbia, was the first white man to sail into the great river of the Pacific slope which bears his vessel's name. He crossed the bar on May 10, 1792. The Columbia drains a basin of 395,000 square miles.

Congressman McKeighan, of Nebraska, who is said to live in a sod lean-to when at home, has been flippantly spoken of as "the ugliest man in congress." Superlative distinction in the American congress is always interesting. And Mr. McKeighan has plenty of time to show that "pretty is as pretty does."

Col. Jerome Bonaparte is described by Kate Field as a man with the most correct taste in the matter of dining of any man in Washington. Kate adds that he is one of those persons who will always carry a walking stick, but will never need it.

HE SHOT TO KILL.

People in Texas Do Considerable Shooting.

Fort Worth, Tex., May 17.—Yesterday morning Harry C. Robinson, salesman for Sears & Son, cutlery dealers, of Chicago, was shot and killed in his boarding house by W. H. Coffman, of this city. Mr. Coffman is a commercial traveler, and claimed that while absent from the city, his wife had been subjected to repeated insults by Robinson.

Mrs. Coffman told her husband of the indignities offered by Robinson and the couple went to the boarding house and demanded an apology from Robinson. The latter refused to apologize and Coffman drew a revolver and fired three times, killing Robinson. Before dying Robinson fired four shots at Coffman, two of which took effect, inflicting slight wounds. Coffman surrendered and was released on 1,500 bonds.

The Coffman family stand high in the community and it is the general opinion that Coffman will not be indicted.

ARE VETERANS BOTH.

Tim Murnane Writes Well as He Played.

George Wright, the Famous Short Now Plays Cricket.

Every Admirer of Health and Strength May Learn From Him.

No two men are better acquainted with base ball than George Wright and Tim Murnane, and there are no two men in the country whose judgment of good players and good playing is safer than theirs.

George Wright, now the senior member of the well-known firm of Wright & Ditson of Boston, was once the most famous short-stop of the country, and was known as the king of ball players. To this day the game has not produced a short-stop equal to him. He is now a devotee of the good game of cricket, and is one of the crackest players in the country. Tim Murnane was equally as famous a first baseman, and piled up home runs enough in his day to be remembered with admiration from then till now. Mr. Murnane is now a critic and a writer of the game, whose good opinions are only earned by good play, and whose judgment is always best. As a writer no one excels him. His style is a model. His advice is worth heeding.

Wright at Cricket.

Every admirer of health and strength may learn a profitable lesson from what these men say.

Says Mr. Wright: "Last spring I did not feel in the best of health. I do not mean to say that this is strange, because most people during the past season have been out of sorts, but I was troubled with a tired, languid feeling, a thing quite unusual to me.

"I was not what might be called sick, but I was not well. A friend recommended me to try something of which he spoke in the highest terms. I am in the habit of relying on my constitution to bring me through, but I determined to follow my friend's advice.

"I must say that I am glad I did so, for I found it benefited me greatly, and I am taking it now, even while out of doors, and indulging in my regular exercise. This is what Paine's celery compound did for me."

Says Mr. Murnane: "I know of nothing that I would more quickly advise a man who is run down with hard physical work, or at his desk, to take as a strength-giving tonic than Paine's celery compound. Mr. Wright's experience is that of many others whom I could name."

It is the experience of thousands—Paine's celery compound makes the weak strong.

GRANITE CUTTERS OUT.

Fifty Thousand Men Idle in New England.

The Struggle an Important One and Will Probably be Protracted—New York Seriously Affected.

New York, May 16.—The lockout of granite cutters throughout the New England states was declared this morning, throwing from 20,000 to 30,000 men out of employment. At the same time a number of strikes were ordered in sympathy with the stone cutters and it is estimated that fully 50,000 men employed in the quarrying and stone works are now out. The immediate effect in this city was to bring to a standstill all building operations with a menace of still more far-reaching effect.

Many other trades will undoubtedly be influenced if the struggle is protracted. The men say they have means to continue the contest indefinitely and believe on the other hand that the urgency of contracts will compel the employers to surrender.

Commissioner of Public Works Gilroy, upon whom the men rely in bringing the employers to terms by insisting that the paving contracts, now under way, shall be filled, said to a United Press reporter this morning that he saw no way in which to bring about an understanding between the men and employers. He declared that he could make no calculation as to when the work would be resumed. Pickets of granite cutters will watch every boatload of stone that is brought to the city and in every case where it comes from a quarry, the owner of which is a member of the granite manufacturers association, workmen will be warned not to handle the stone.

Broke an Agreement.

Boston, May 16.—It is stated by the officers of the granite cutters union in this city that the manufacturers association in locking out its men has broken a written agreement signed by its representative on March 1 last, which provides for 30 days notice of any such proceedings.

There is a report, based apparently on good authority that the local manufacturers have been coerced in their action by the New England association which threatened to cut off all supplies from the quarries. It is said that a number of manufacturers have declared that they would open their yards at once if they could arrange to have stone from quarries outside the trust.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

More Recognition of Women in the Church.

No Recommendation Made in the Matter of a Colored Bishop—A Resolution Looking Toward Change in the Name of the Church.

Omaha, Neb., May 16.—Bishop Hurst presided over the conference this morning. The board of bishops asked the conference to interpret the rule requiring one-third of either order to order a separate vote. They asked whether it means one-third of all voting of either order, or of one-third of all who have appeared and been seated or of all who have been elected to the conference. Referred to committee on judiciary.

The Philadelphia conference offered a resolution that paragraphs fifty-five to sixty-one inclusive of the discipline be regarded by this conference as the plan of lay delegation, and therefore statutory law. Referred to committee on judiciary.

A second resolution from that conference authorized the editor of the discipline to edit it so as to separate the statutory and the constitutional provisions. Laid on the table.

It was decided that after May 18 no more reports or memorials be received. A communication from the women's national convention was read congratulating the conference upon the admission of women delegates.

A resolution to change the name of the church from the Holy Catholic to the Universal Church of Christ was referred. Dr. Kynet offered a resolution that the committee on judiciary b instructed to report by May 20 whether the word "laymen" includes both males and females. So ordered. The order of the day—the reading of memoirs postponed from Friday was then taken up. The report of the committee on episcopacy was read by Dr. Blakeley and adopted.

The court recommends that no more bishops be appointed. In regard to the appointment of a colored bishop, the report declares that the race or nationality of a bishop is not a matter for legislation and that therefore no recommendation is made. That portion of the report recommending the establishment of certain episcopal residences and the abolition of others occasioned a hot debate but the recommendations were sustained and the conference then adjourned.

BRITISH BARK WRECKED.

The Earl Goes Down Off the Welsh Coast and Sixteen Men Are Lost.

London, May 16—The British bark Earl of Aberdeen, commanded by Capt. Patrick, has been wrecked off the coast of Pembrokeshire, Wales, with a reported loss of 16 lives. The Earl of Aberdeen sailed from San Francisco on November 29 for Havre, France, and arrived there on April 1.

She was bound on another voyage when wrecked. She is reported to have struck on a rock and the crew had but little time to make an effort to save themselves. Twelve of the crew succeeded in making their way from the sinking vessel but 16, according to the reports, were lost.

FARE THEE WELL.

Presentation to Dr. and Mrs. Tupper at the Asylum.

The Officers and Employes Gather to Take Leave of the Chief Officials and Have a Good Time.

Superintendent and Mrs. Tupper have retired from the Toledo asylum for insane. For some days the asylum force have been preparing for a pleasing event in connection with their leave-taking, and last night was the time fixed for its consummation. At 8:30, when the attendants had been relieved from duty, the entire staff assembled in the amusement hall, and Dr. and Mrs. Tupper were summoned. They appeared in due time, and being escorted to the platform their eyes rested on a table where was a beautiful and costly silver tea service, and before them the full corps of officers.

As soon as quietness reigned, Dr. Todd, in a very happy talk, presented the gift as a token of the good will his associates felt toward the couple. Dr. Todd briefly recounted the many acts of kindness received at their hands, and concluded by wishing both long life and happiness.

Dr. Tupper responded feelingly, and for himself and wife expressed thanks for the magnificent gift, and leaving this matter aside, took leave of the company substantially in the following words:

Fellow Employes—Our association with you, although too brief, has been pleasant, and many lasting and desirable acquaintances have been added and attached to us during our sojourn here. A common cause and object will create ties which grow in size, tenderness and strength the closer and more sincere we become in our work, and when we are actuated by the grand, noble, motives that originated and created it, such ties become attachments, and our labors constitute not only labors of love but lovely labors as well, to which we all can refer with satisfaction in our lookings backward during the long unknown future.

To Mrs. Tupper and myself this short period of time, but large spot in our memories, will be kept fresh and green by the tears and sympathy which such retrospect will bring. It is not always unmanly to cry nor masculine for a lady to bravely endeavor to assuage the distress of misfortune, notwithstanding the lamentable fact that such commodities seem to have very little commercial value. The bonds of affliction make all mankind akin. One of Longfellow's thought-artists has pictured the prayers and sighs and the tears of earth as rising and, being clasped by angel hands, are changed into beautiful flowers which are woven into garlands and wreaths and hung adown the aisles and corridors of heaven wafting sweet fragrance through the streets immortal as it emerges from every "portal" in the abodes of bliss, the philosophy of heaven evidently being that the world's hard lines of fate shall all disappear, buried in flowers, mercy's soul-covering. What asylum employe has not thus contributed some crystal, stem, leaf or twig to this vast "celestial flora" while seeing and hearing in our wards and cottages, welling up from the depths of affliction the mingling hopes and fears of bewailing despair as they crowd their way to some position in bruised reason's observatory with clustered lense through which to peer out upon the ocean of disappointments, perhaps some sail of relief and promise in the dim distance to descry. Is it a waste of time to contemplate for a moment the luxurious floral fruitage, "purple and red" contributed by the frenzy and fire of the brain, the hunger and thirst of the heart, the fervor and passion of the soul of our 1,200 patients and attendants as they daily ascend from Toledo's greenhouse of affliction to be gathered and arrayed by "San Dalphon, the angel of prayer?"

Your beloved and rich expressions of appreciation of our stay and labors beside you, we most highly prize, although they but add to our already bankrupt condition, for, to your faithfulness, confidence and forbearance, with those under your care and ourselves as well, are we indebted for the small amount of good our help may have secured, but we sincerely thank you all, and will ever cherish them as fond, tender reminders of the year's association with noble, faithful, enlightened co-laborers in a divine mission transferred to earth.

In this employment, friends, we have been very close together;
Through pleasant and through cloudy
weather;
'Tis hard to part when friends are dear,
Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh, a tear;
Then let us steal away, giving little warning,
Taking our own time, not saying good night,
But in some brighter clime we hope to say to you all Good Morning.

When Dr. Tupper concluded there was generous applause. Mrs. Tupper, to use the regulation phrase, was "too full for utterance," and in answer to calls for a speech was only able to say "I thank you for your kindly remembrance." Mrs. Tupper has endeared herself to all connected with the institution, especially the lady officers. She has entered into the details of their lives, and with her genial disposition and always beaming countenance dispensed light in the dark places. It is because of these acts that Mrs. Tupper will always have a warm spot in the hearts of all with whom she came in contact. Nor were her efforts in this direction confined to the residents of the asylum; she had one way for all, and new and old friends will remember her stay among them with pleasure. Dr. and Mrs. Tupper will leave for their home in Ottawa at the close of the week, accompanied by best wishes for continued success in life.

The gift made last night consisted of a full silver tea set, with tray, six tablespoons, six dessertspoons, six teaspoons, a berry spoon, sugar forks, six forks and two peppers, with the letter "T" engraved thereon. The inscription on the tray was:

DR. AND MRS. C. E. TUPPER
from the Officers and Employes of the Toledo Asylum, 1892.

After the presentation dancing was indulged in until 11 o'clock. Later in the evening Mrs. Tupper served a dainty luncheon to a few friends, and an hour of social converse, with music interspersed, was spent. The occasion was a delightful one throughout.

S. AND S. ORPHANS' HOME

Gen. Horatio C. King Writes of a Visit.

Made to This Popular Institution, Giving Some of the Details Which Will be Interesting to Bee Readers.

A short time since Gen. Horatio C. King, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who by the way is a son of ex-Postmaster General King, paid a visit to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home at Xenia, and the Bee has been favored with a letter containing his observations, which will have local interest since Gen. and Mrs. C. L. Young, the superintendent and matron, are well-known Toledoans, and our citizens will be glad to learn that they are having success in their labors. The letter follows:

A stranger traveling through Ohio cannot fail to be impressed not only with the extent of its territory but with its substantial wealth and the thrift and prosperity of its people. There is no question as to the effect of a large expanse of territory upon the views and conduct of the people. Of course wherever there is a larger and quicker return to the efforts of industry, there is a corresponding enlargement of generosity. So it happens that in Ohio you find big hearted men and women, with generous impulses and sentiments promptly responsive to the calls of charity; and this sympathetic charity is especially marked towards the men who fought to save the Union and those who were made widows and orphans by the terrible struggle or have become so by the death since the war of the veterans who wore the blue.

Besides the National Soldiers' Home at Dayton, magnificently supported by the general government, the state has its own Soldiers' home under the superintendence of General Force, and a Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home at Xenia, under the management of General Charles L. Young, himself a veteran of the Excelsior Brigade, assisted by his energetic and efficient wife, than whom two persons better adapted for the work could not be found.

The home comprises an extensive main buildings, green houses, paint and carpenter rooms and parlor, superintendent's and teachers' quarters, an immense dining room and kitchens, some thirty cottages each accommodating thirty orphans and a matron, the school building, chapel, four hospital cottages, store house, industrial buildings, green house, paint and carpenter shops, barn and out-houses, and a farm of over three hundred acres nearly all of which is in grass or under cultivation.

The qualifications for admission are simply that the applicant shall be an indigent orphan of a soldier or sailor resident of Ohio. The limit of age is from infancy to 16 for boys and to 18 for girls. It was my good fortune to be favored with a close personal inspection of all the workings of the institution on a recent occasion, and I came away greatly impressed with the feeling that Ohio is away ahead of its sister states at least in this particular of providing a genuine home for, and rescuing from poverty, want and suffering, the little ones who are properly wards of the state and nation.

The one feature which made the strongest impression was the genuine home-like character of the place and its management. I have visited a great many eleemosinary institutions, but in none have I witnessed such an almost entire absence of restraint as in this, and yet there is almost perfect discipline; but the discipline is that founded upon love and kindness as the restraining power and not punishment. I think this is in large part due to the plan adopted in the erection of the buildings. Instead of being herded together in two or three large edifices as is usual, this great community of nine hundred boys and girls is divided into families or companies of thirty each, each family occupying a neat brick cottage under the supervision of a matron.

The cottages are two stories in height. On the ground floor is the assembly room, which does duty as the parlor, study and play-room, and next to it, the matron's room, and above is the dormitory, with its spotlessly clean beds and the lavatory, where everything is arranged in the most methodical style. All the cottages are connected by a covered way with the great dining room where each family has its separate table, to which the members march in an orderly way and are assisted, rather than supervised, by the motherly head of each interesting group. It was a pleasure to see them march in to dinner in quiet, orderly style, no pushing or romping, but with heads erect and cheerful countenances and take their seats until all were seated. Then at a signal from the matron's bell, all heads were bowed and as if with one voice, a simple blessing was pronounced. Another bell and the onslaught began. The fare was abundant and substantial. Baked beans was the piece de-resistance that day and the way the large tin dishes of the succulent vegetable disappeared clearly showed that the children had inherited a decided taste for it from their venerated ancestors.

The school, which is in a large building built expressly for and admirably adapted to the purpose, is conducted, as are all other public schools in the state, from the little "tots" in the primary to the grammar grades. The teachers are well selected, and are not required to do other than school work. Music is taught by an experienced lady instructor, and their singing was in no degree behind that of the most favored I have heard.

But the curriculum is by no means confined to mere literary achievements. The plan and scope of the institution extend to giving each boy and girl a practical education that will enable them, after their discharge, at once to earn their own livelihood. So for at least two years before his graduation, the boy must spend half of each school day in learning some trade, and all the facilities are afforded by which he may become a practical farmer, an engineer, a carpenter, painter, gardener, florist, tailor, shoemaker, tinsmith and printer; and I am not sure that I have enumerated them all. The girls who, as I have said, are at liberty to remain until eighteen, are taught cookery and housework, dress-making, tailoring, the use of the sewing machine, teaching, and all the domestic duties which go to make the good wife and useful citizen. Every garment worn by the pupils, including shoes, are made by the orphans themselves under the careful tutelage and assistance of skilled workmen, some of them themselves graduates of the institution.

Of course a Soldiers' and Sailors' home is naturally conducted on military principles. As soon as the boys are large enough, they enter the Cadet corps, wear cadet uniforms, and on drill and parade carry small muskets and manouver under their own officers according to the latest tactics. A drum corps is formed from their own number, and the boys, big and little, always march to school to the sound of the sheepskin in platoons or column of companies, and salute the superintendent in soldierly style as they pass his headquarters. The assembly in the chapel, where I was asked to say a few words, presented a most interesting sight. Nine hundred, almost a full regiment, marched in in the most orderly manner. A choir of twenty or more young men and maidens sang several songs (among them "Ohio," a new composition) in a spirited manner; and the great chorus made the rafters ring with "Marching Through Georgia" and "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

Many persons think it difficult to speak to children. Let them try these, for a more appreciative, quickly responsive audience I have ever addressed. The humor and pathos alike found ready understanding, and ears little and large, young and old, were alike on the alert for the next incident or funny story. There was no subdued laughter. It was happy and unrestrained. And this was the manifest undercurrent everywhere.

And why? Because the idea of motherly care and protection pervaded the whole atmosphere. Each matron was mother to her special brood and Gen. Young and his wife were the universal father and mother. They had a smile and a word of good cheer for every one, and the little ones ran after them and clung to them with every manifestation of childish affection. I was told by one of the teachers that Mrs. Young was able to call by name almost every child in the home, even to the most recent arrival. Mr. Depew, in a spirit of pleasantry, once remarked that "some are born great, some have greatness thrust upon them and some are born in Ohio." Fortunate are these bereaved children, who have the affectionate care of that grand state.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 92,912 bu and at five other western points 118,838 bu.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were: Wheat 545,249 bu and flour to an aggregate of 725,000 bu. Export of corn 71,246 bu and of oats 133,623 bu.

English markets are dull and lower for wheat and corn.

The shipments of flour and wheat from exporting to importing countries last week are reported at 7,660,000 bu. The requirements over the deliveries of home grown wheat are estimated at 7,000,000 bu, and this is the 17th of May, 1892, to which period wheat dealers, until recently, were looking as the Mecca of their hopes for higher prices. The "hold your wheat" authors and the alliance organizations were not a whit more deceived than thousands of dealers, who, in August and September last, expected large prices now. Wheat is a daisy occasionally, but oftener it blasts fond hopes of gain and is a great sinner generally.

Man proposeth, but wheat disposeth.

The Markets To-day.

Ordinarily dull and lower English markets for wheat and corn would be reflected by a sharp decline on this side, but our markets all opened at about yesterday's closing prices. Trading was reported light. Perhaps the report of a recurrence of rain in Kansas and Nebraska and a little in the northwest may have had a bracing effect. The receipts at northwest and other points are light, while the exports are quite large. Wheat and flour about 725,000 bu. The fact is, that while Chicago is the great regulator of prices, or has been, it requires cheek to sell her wheat short at 10c below the cash wheat. This difference will be reduced to about 3s if Gabriel postpones his visit long enough.

The wheat markets have ruled quite study all day and close a small fraction under yesterday.

Corn has been strong and higher. Closing prices for May much higher west.

Liverpool is quoted as closing lower. Other foreign markets irregular. Some lower, some higher.

In New York May wheat closed 1-4c and July 1-8c lower. May corn 1-2c and July 5-8c higher. May oats 3-8c up.

In Chicago May and July wheat closed 1-c lower. May corn 3 1-4c higher, July 5-8c higher. May oats 1-8c up.

In Toledo the dullness that has characterized our market for some days has been the leading feature of the deal. There was some little trading for July, but in other futures business has been very dull. For July prices started a little higher, but lost the gain and closed a ta loss of 1-4c. May closed 1-2c up and August 1-8c lower. On the call May sold at 91 1-4c. After the call May sold at 91 1-2 to 91 1-4 and closed at 91 1-2c. June sold at 88 1-4 to 88 1-8c and closed at 88 1-4c. July sold at 85 to 84 3-8c and closed at 84 1-2c bid. August sold at 83 1-2c and closed at 83 3-8c bid. Cash wheat was not in large demand. No. 2 sold at 91 1-4c and at close 911-2c was the market. No. 3 soft sold at 88@87 1-2c bid.

Corn No. 2 at 46 1-4c, July 44 3-4c. Nothing in oats or rye.

Bradstreet's report of the visible supply makes wheat decreased east of the Rockies 1,859,000 bushels. On the Pacific coast decreased 280,000 bushels. Corn decreased 715,000 bushels. Oats increased 756,000 bushels.

Chicago Opening.

Chicago, May 17.—Opening—Wheat—May, 81 5-8c; July, 81. Corn—May, 49c; July, 43 1-2c. Oats—July, 29 3-4c. Pork—July, $9 70. Lard—July, $6 20. Ribs—July, $5 80.

CHICAGO CLOSE.

Chicago, May 17.—Close—Wheat—May, 81 1-4c; July, 80 3-4c. Corn—May, 51c; July, 43 1-2c. Oats—May, 29 3-4c; July, 29 3-4c. Pork—July, $9 70. Lard—July, $6 27 1-2@6 30. Ribs—July, $5 82 1-2.

Close in New York.

Wheat opened firm and 1-4c higher; but subsequently weakened and declined 1-2c; No. 2 red winter, 96 1-4c cash; 88 7-8c May; 89c June; 89 3-4c July; 90 3-8c August.

Corn opened strong and advanced 1c in the early dealings, but reacted 3-8c near 12 o'clock; No. 2 mixed, 53 3-4c cash; 53c May; 51 1-4c June.

Oats dull but steady; No. 2 mixed, 35c cash; July, 34 7-8c.

Rye active and firm; car lots, 80@84c.

Barley neglected.

Molasses dull; New Orleans, 30@36.

Sugar refined quiet; cutloaf and crushed, 5 1-8; powdered, 4 5-8@4 3-4; granulated, 4 5-16@4 9-16. Coffee steady; fair rio cargoes, 15 3-4. Rice nominal. Pork dull but steady; new mess, $11 00. Lard quiet; 6 51 May; 6 56 July. Butter firm and quiet; western firsts, 19 1-2@20; state first extra, 20@21. Cheese firm with fair demand; state factory full cream, 10 1-2. Eggs stronger; state choice, 16 1-4; western do, 15 1-4@16. Turpentine dull at 30@32 1-2. Rosin quiet; strained to good, 1 45@1 50. Tallow quiet; prime city, 4 13-16. Petroleum nominal. Freights quiet; grain to Liverpool, steam, 2 1-2d.

Money on call was easy at 1 1-2 per cent. Exchange quiet; posted rates, 4 87@4 88 1-2; actual rates, 4 86 1-4@4 86 1-2 for 60 days, and 487 1-2@487 3-4 for demand.

Governments quiet; currency, 6s, 109 bid; 4s, coup., 117 bid; extended 2s, registered, 100 bid.

Stocks displayed but little activity in the two hours to noon to-day. Prices were irregular and unsettled, but changes for the most part were insignificant. Omaha stocks were both decidedly strong, advancing 1 1-2 per cent. for preferred and 1 1-8 for common. Sugar trust was strong and advanced 1 1-2 per cent. Union Pacific and Chicago Gas, on the other hand, were the weak features, and declined 1-4 and 1 per cent. respectively. At this writing the market is extremely dull. The sales were 117,200 shares.

LIVE STOCK.

New York, May 17.—Cattle—Receipts 8,000 head, including 65 cars for sale. The market was dull and 10c lower. Sales of native steers at $3.75@4.75 per cwt, bulls and cows at $1.40@3.40. Dressed beef was dull at 6 1-2@ 8c per lb for native sides. Shipments to-morrow 1,015 beeves and 1,200 quarters of beef.

In that direction there was more doing in plain cottons, chiefly for water transportation, but there were no indications of an immediate general movement. Agents have expected to do more at this time, but buyers are inclined to wait a while yet, perhaps until June. Yet an active demand is liable to spring up at any moment.

THE SEASON CLOSED

At Wheeler's With Mr. and Mrs. Kendal.

The Vendetta Makes a Hit at the People's—Coming Attractions—Saturday Evening's Concert.

Wheeler opera house closed for the season last evening with the appearance of Mr. and Mrs. Kendal in Sardou's comedy A Scrap of Paper. Every seat was taken. A criticism of Mr. and Mrs. Kendal is unnecessary. They have taken their place in the foremost ranks, and no one will attempt to dispute their right to the position. It will probably be their last appearance in Toledo, as they do not intend making another American tour.

At the People's.

The Vendetta fully came up to the expectations of the first-nighters at the People's last evening. The play opens up in Paris and the successive scenes are laid in Toulon prison. The Casino at Mont Carlo, on the steamship from Mont Carlo to Marseilles, and in Paris at the time when the city was burned. The scenic effects are grand, especiall the realistic ship scene and the collision. W. A. Whitecar, who assumes the role of Count Octavio Romarri, was excellent and his support was good throughout. The People's will not close for some weeks. The Fast Mail will be the attraction next week and Chas. A. Loder, in Oh! What a Night, the week following.
